'It's amazing the way they foul everything up'

Stewart lambastes postal service

By JIM BRADLEY
Special to the Roman

Don't ask Romulus Mayor James Stewart what he thinks of the U. S. Postal Service. He might just tell you — in language that's unprintable in a family newspaper.

"It's amazing the way they screw everything up!" Stewart exclaimed Friday, when asked to comment on recent changes in the Romulus Postoffice. "You couldn't print what I have to say about the way they run the postoffice. They transferred the Romulus carriers and clerks to Taylor and the mail is really fouled up now. We get our mail at city hall a lot later in the day and there are more mistakes than you can count."

Stewart was specifically referring to the Detroit postal authorities who have jurisdiction over Romulus and all other 481 zip code areas.

"Two Detroit postal authorities sat right there in those two chairs," said the outspoken mayor, gesturing across his desk, "and promised me in April there would be no changes whatsoever in the Romulus postoffice. Less than two weeks later they moved the sorters and carriers to the Taylor postoffice. They were lying through their teeth."

Stewart's latest outburst against the postal service came when he heard that Detroit postal authorities promised no more changes in the local postoffice in a meeting held last Wednesday at Ramada Inn near Metropolitan Airport.

Joseph Loukotka, who was appointed Detroit postmaster in June, has authority over all postoffices with 482 and 481 zip code numbers.

"There are no plans in the immediate future to close the Romulus postoffice," Loukotka said during a break in a meeting with local postmasters from the 481 zip code area. "Romulus carriers and clerks were moved to the Taylor postoffice because we felt it was less expensive from an operational standpoint and was the best use of money available to us."

The transfer of carriers and clerks from Romulus has raised a lot of questions that Stewart, city residents and even the postal workers themselves would like answered.

First of all, Stewart doesn't think it's the best use of the money.

"The service is much worse now, and you can't tell me they're saving any money," he said. "The Romulus postoffice has been a money-maker every year. I know. I've talked to former postmasters George Austin and Bill Laginise and current acting postmaster John Vincent and they all tell me the same thing. The Romulus postoffice has not lost money — it's had a growth every year."

Stewart also feels frustrated by the way he's been given the run-around.

"I took more than a 1,000 signatures on petitions to Washington in May and Congressman Bill Ford said he would do everything he could for us. I talked with the postmaster general and he talked a lot, but he didn't say anything," Stewart said.

What makes the whole situation so startling to Stewart and local postal workers is that ceremonies were held last year on 2.7 acres adjoining the Civic Center on Wayne Road at Bibbins, at which time postal authorities announced that a new Romulus postoffice would be built on the site.

Local postal clerks agree with Stewart and say they are using some of the new equipment which was scheduled for the new facility. They even admit that some new equipment planned for the new postoffice is presently being stored at Metropolitan Airport.

"It all just doesn't make sense," Stewart repeated. "Why, if our government was run the way the postoffice is, we'd have to go out of business!"

Stewart, 50, who is finishing his first-year in office after upsetting former Mayor Terry Troutt last November, said it was imperative that Romulus have a "first-rate" postoffice, not just some branch office.

"We're the greatest city in the state of Michigan," says the fiery city head. "We have more to offer in industry and business. We have the fifth largest airport in the country, two railroads and two freeways right at our door. No other city in the state can boast that."

"In addition, I feel we have the best volunteer fire department in the state with the best equipment — new, modern equipment. We have a waiting list of people who want to be volunteer firemen. We've never had to knock on doors to get volunteers like some places do."

What the future holds for the Romulus postoffice is uncertain, but recurring rumors say nothing will be done until after the Nov. 2 presidential election with more possible cutbacks coming then.

In any case, Stewart says he's going to fight to keep a complete postoffice in his city.

Cramped quarters

Not only is the Romulus postoffice building small but parking space leaves much to be desired. But the main concern of Romulus residents is whether the U.S. Postal Service will close the facility.

Morale at all-time low

Changes at Romulus postoffice bring flood of complaints

By JIM BRADLEY
Special to the Roman

Recent changes in the Romulus postoffice have brought a flood of complaints from the mayor, the patrons and the postal workers themselves.

And even more serious, employee morale is at an all-time low.

"I don't like it at all," says Martha Wensko, a clerk with 11 years service in the Romulus postoffice. "I live in Romulus and was hired to work in the Romulus postoffice and I think the others should be able to work in Romulus also."

In the past four months, some 20 letter carriers and 12 clerks were transferred from the postoffice to the one in Taylor. Much confusion, misdelivery of mail and wasted time has resulted, according to the postal workers.

Another bitter pill for them to swallow is the fact they are now under the Taylor seniority system and when bidding comes up for routes or clerk jobs, Romulus employees can lose out to Taylor employees with more time in service.

"The mail situation has gone from bad to worse," Mrs. Wensko added. "I think we'll eventually become a branch of Taylor. We're overworked and I'm seriously thinking of quitting. But I have a daughter going to college and so I have to think about that."

She has a teacher's degree and is seriously contemplating taking a night teaching job.

Her assistant at the window is Sally Aggison, who had eight years seniority. Although Sally was not available for comment, she is reported very disappointed at the turn of events in the local postal facility.

"Taylor is supposed to help us with clerks," says Mrs. Wensko, "but it's a continuous hassle. It's not really their fault, they're short of help, too. Yesterday, our part-time clerk was off and we had no relief on our lunch hour or break. I ate lunch while Sally worked and visa-versa."

People who had to wait too long in line just turned and walked out, related Mrs. Wensko. "You know, it's not like they're standing in line to see some exciting movie."

"One lady had a C.O.D. package that she came in to pick up, but it was somewhere between Romulus and Taylor and the lady had to wait an extra day to pick it up," she said.

MARTHA WENSKO
'bad to worse'

SALLY AGGISON
'disappointed'

John Vincent, who was named acting Romulus postmaster four months ago, is caught right in the middle.

"I'm just new here myself and the employees are doing the best they can under difficult circumstances," he said. Because the mail is sorted in the Taylor facility, much time and effort is wasted because people will call the Romulus postoffice and the clerks or Vincent will have to track down a piece of mail and report back to the patron.

Vincent is a veteran postmaster with 25 years service at Eloise, Mich., postoffice and eight years as a clerk there before that. Provisions of a new postal subsidy bill signed by President Ford Sept. 24 stipulate no closings of any postal facilities until at least March 1, 1977. The Eloise postoffice, which serves a small number of people, is expected to be phased out at that time and Vincent's future may be a question mark if Romulus does become a branch office without a postmaster.

The transfer of the clerks and carriers was unexpected as plans were announced a year ago that a new Romulus postoffice would be built on the 2.7 acres which adjoins the south side of the Civic Center on Wayne Road near Bibbins. Those plans were shelved unexplainably and some of the new equipment planned for that facility is now being used in the present office at Shook and Bibbins St. Other new equipment originally planned for the proposed new postoffice is reportedly stored at Metropolitan Airport.

"That's another thing that's hard to figure out," Mrs. Wensko said. "We thought sure they were going to build a new postoffice next to the Civic Center. They had all kinds of new equipment — lock boxes, stands, desks, file cabinets — but we're using some of it and I understand other new equipment is stored at Metropolitan Airport."

Compounding the morale problem, Mrs. Wensko said that Gladys Zilka, a Romulus postal worker with more than seven years seniority, resigned Friday. "I don't think it's fair for Romulus postal workers to have to be under Taylor's seniority system when jobs go up for bid. It just isn't right," says the discouraged Mrs. Wensko.

It may be just coincidental, but that's just after the presidential election.

Area residents urged to oppose drain bill

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

A county commissioner and several public officials are earnestly lobbying against a bill in the Michigan State Senate that would allow a county drain commissioner to levy taxes against persons in local communities with virtually no approval from the voters.

Commissioner Royce C. Smith (D-27th District), whose jurisdiction includes Belleville, Van Buren Township, Canton Township and the cities of Wayne and Westland, is opposed to a rewrite of the controversial Senate Bill 1150 which would allow a county drain commissioner to collect up to $800 per mile for "drain maintenance" without any approval of the taxpayers.

The new bill, now before the Senate Cooperation in Economic Development Committee chaired by Sen. Anthony Derezinski (D-Muskegon), calls for only a "check" on the drain commissioner's unilateral right to levy taxes through the governing board of cities of townships affected by the drain cleaning if the cost of maintenance was between $800 and $2,000 per mile.

governing board of a community must approve maintenance if the cost is between $800 and $2,000 per mile.

Only after the cost of maintenance rises to more than $2,000 per mile would the taxpayers of a community be asked to approve the expenditure of funds.

"This bill is not much better than one we killed in the House Drainage Committee earlier in the summer," declared Smith. "I think the only fair way to tax people without their direct knowledge and be responsible to the needs of an individual community is to require at least a vote of the governing body of a community whenever an assessment is to be levied for drain maintenance purposes."

"That way we wouldn't suffer the abuse citizens of my district have experienced in particular, under the present laws."

Citizens of area communities became concerned over the provisions contained in the state drain code when Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer discovered earlier this year that Wayne County Drain Commissioner Charles N. Youngblood was apparently abusing his right to levy taxes for drain maintenance by diverting money allegedly collected for cleaning of drains to cover administrative expenses in the drain commissioner's office.

Gollwitzer, Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein, and Brownstown Township Supervisor Kurt Boller lobbied strenuously against the bill before the House Drainage Committee, eventually forcing the committee to pigeon-hole the measure.

A new proposal was then presented to the Senate with provisions to provide more checks on the right to levy taxes without a direct vote of the taxpayers.

Smith said he hopes that area citizens lobby "as hard" against the new proposal as they did against the other.

"There's a meeting of the committee and a public hearing scheduled on the matter tomorrow (Oct. 7) at 8 a.m. in Room 22 of the Capitol Building," Smith said.

"Persons should try to get there to give their opinion on the bill, or at least send some word to the chairman of the committee either by phone or telegram."

"The very least I'd like to settle for is a bill which required a community's governing body to approve all maintenance," Smith said. "I think local citizens should trust their governing bodies enough to give them that approval power."

"But the legislative committee will not act on that suggestion unless there is strong public opinion in favor of the change."

To offset projected deficit

Auditors call for county hiring freeze

Less than 25 percent of next year's county revenues will come from property taxes

A recommended austerity budget which calls for a hiring freeze to offset a projected $8.2 million deficit for this year has been recommended to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for next year by the county Board of Auditors.

The commissioners this week began a month-long series of budget deliberations which will culminate with the commissioners' adoption of the final budget, incorporating any changes made by the commissioners, on Oct. 28.

In submitting their budget recommendations, the county auditors attributed the deficit primarily to costs involved in court-ordered expansion of jail facilities and improvements at Juvenile Court to deal with "rampant juvenile crime". Cost of the jail facilities was set at $5.9 million, with an additional $800,000 being spent at Juvenile Court.

A total budget of $364,689,605 was submitted to the Board of Commissioners by the Board of Auditors. This represents an increase of more than $31.7 million over the budget for this fiscal year, which ends Nov. 30.

The budget includes revenue from the half-million (50 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) property tax levy, approved by the voters last May 18 to finance construction and operation of a downtown jail facility.

Less than 25 percent of next year's county revenues will come from property taxes.

Revenues anticipated by the Board of Auditors includes $1.1 million which would have to be collected from townships for services provided by the Sheriff's township patrols.

The Board of Auditors noted in their budget message that both Circuit Court and the Michigan Court of Appeals ruled that the county has authority to curtail the services although the townships have appealed to the State Supreme Court.

"The Board of Wayne County Auditors is of the opinion that this service should be provided only if the costs of operation can be recovered from the townships serviced," the auditors said.

The Board of Auditors recommended that the Sheriff's helicopter patrol be eliminated as of next July 1 when a labor contract, which forced re-instatement of the patrol a few weeks ago, expires. The helicopter patrol was cut from this year's budget as a low priority item but was restored by an arbitrator's ruling that the cut was precluded by the contract with the Sheriff's deputies' union. Officers now assigned to the patrol would be shifted to other posts.

The auditors recommended that $328,000 be saved by eliminating the Sheriff's community relations and special services bureaus and by reducing the metropolitan narcotics squad from 14 to 11 officers.

The auditors turned down a total of $47,318,085 in requests for personnel and equipment by county departments. The Board of Commissioners will hear department heads argue for their request before establishing the final budget.

"Wayne County is in for another year of austerity, but the budget recommendations we have submitted will maintain the essential public services of the county," said Ted Mrozowski of Hamtramck, chairman of the 3-member Board of Auditors. The other auditors are Richard T. Kelly of Wyandotte and Leonard D. Proctor of Detroit.

The auditors recommended that this year's $2.5 million mandatory savings — the amount county departments must save by not filling jobs when they become vacant — be increased to $7 million, which represents 7 percent of the County payroll of $100 million.

In addition to a general increase in the cost of goods and services, the auditors attributed the projected $31.7 million budget increase for next year to items such as $5.9 million to operate the N Building jail facility for 250 prisoners on the grounds of Wayne County General Hospital in Westland.

Additional jail facilities had to be provided after a 3-judge Wayne County Circuit panel imposed a ceiling of 720 prisoners at the present jail in Downtown Detroit.

John Barr, Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, said: "We find ourselves in a budget squeeze because of the increased demand on the criminal justice system resulting from a 5-year upward trend in crime throughout the county."

"Because of these increasing demands, there is a crunch on all county departments. Payroll costs have increased because of inflation, not because we have hired new employees. Our manpower level has remained almost constant for several years."

"The recommendations of the Board of Auditors will be thoroughly reviewed and, no doubt, altered by the Board of Commissioners. We will be scrutinizing and searching with great care. The result may be some cutbacks."

Dietrich dealership provides Huron driver education cars

A Wayne automobile dealership again has provided cars for the Huron High School driver's education program for its first semester.

Harold Dietrich Buick Inc. of Wayne is supplying cars for use in the instruction driving.

According to Lee

Goodney, assistant superintendent of the Huron School District, "it sometimes goes unnoticed by students and folks in the community that car dealers supply vehicles for use by our young drivers."

"We are particularly thankful for the consideration that Harold Dietrich Buick Inc. has given us over the years because of the fact that we have no new car dealer in the district that can meet the requirements of a driver education car," he added. "This is the fourth time in the as many years that we have had Buicks at our disposal and with high school districts all over the state finding it increasingly difficult to obtain cars, we are indeed most fortunate to have an out-of-the-district dealer so willingly to participate in our program."

Goodney went on to ask students in the first semester of the driving instruction classes to take care of "their training wheels" to demonstrate their willingness to keep the cars clean and presentable at all times.

The whole New Boston Huron School District extends to Harold Dietrich Buick Inc. of Wayne most sincere thanks for helping us continue a program that is most essential and important to the students of Huron High School," he concluded.

Center to hold open house

Romulus senior citizens are invited to an "open house" Friday at the Romulus Senior Citizen Center. Located behind the recreation building at 36545 Bibbins Street, the senior citizen center offers older residents a place to gather and dine at no cost on Friday afternoons.

The first event is scheduled between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Oct. 15. According to Joan Haubrich, senior citizens coordinator: "This open house is designed to acquaint senior citizens from throughout the community with the services we have available at the center."

"Persons who enjoy television, sewing, billiards, cards or reading will have facilities available to them so they can enjoy their favorite pastimes. "In addition, we'll offer a lunch of soup and crackers with coffee and tea free of charge."

Senior citizens aged 55 years and older are eligible to attend the open house and enjoy the luncheon offered by the city. In addition, persons who need transportation to the center are eligible for free rides.

Thrift Shop takes look at services rendered

Often in the business of developing a "case history" of a client to better determine how he or she may be helped, Romulus' Helping Hand Thrift Shop, a voluntary charitable organization, is hoping to develop its own "case history."

Florence Klein, manager of the charitable organization, said that after 10 years of operation in Romulus, and another five in Wayne under a different name, the Thrift Shop needs to take a closer look at its services.

"My hope is that people who have been helped by the Thrift Shop will tell us in what ways they were helped," Mrs. Klein said. "What I'm looking for is the ways in which help offered residents changed their lives.

'There are volunteers who have benefitted...'

"For instance, I've heard stories from people that sometimes the difference between a parent keeping their child and giving the child up for adoption was a donation of baby clothing they received from the Thrift Shop," Mrs. Klein said. "I'd like to know if something like that is true, because it reflects on the importance of the clothing program."

Mrs. Klein said that the Thrift Shop has aided persons in other ways than by offering donations.

"There are volunteers who have benefitted from their own service, and who I know have gone to school to get a job in a related field," Mrs.

Klein said. "I've run into workers who are now social workers."

Mrs. Klein said she has received informal feedback from clients of the Thrift Shop when she sees them years after they've been aided.

"They'll introduce themselves, and say how the Thrift Shop may have aided them," she explained. "But now we're looking for a more formal form of feedback."

Mrs. Klein said she hopes clients will write her at P. O. Box 375, Romulus, 48174.

Information will be kept confidential, according to Mrs. Klein. "We're simply looking for information on the impact of the Thrift Shop on this community and those surrounding it."

"But, if an individual wishes to come in person to discuss the shop, I'd be willing to talk with them."

"It would be nice to see people in person, since we made so many good friends over the years who may have drifted away."

Persons who want to stop by the Thrift Shop in person can make arrangements by calling Mrs. Klein or one of the Thrift Shop workers at 941-5323.

Planning progresses for wrestling match

Plans still are progressing with the Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1 "championship wrestling match", scheduled for Oct. 15 at Romulus Senior High School. According to Wilma Pomeroy, assistant senior citizens program director, a match featuring four "big name" contestants will begin at 8 p.m. at the senior high school.

Matches will include Bulldog Don Kent versus Mick DeCarlo, Money Man Hank James versus Dennis Albert, Dominic Denucci versus Beautiful John Davis and Pretty Boy Floyd versus Cowboy Dawson.

Local wrestling entrepreneur Louie Klein will serve as a special guest referee.

Tickets for the vent are $3 either at the door the night of the event or in advance by calling Mrs. Pomeroy at either 941-0666 ext. 87 or 326-3974 after working hours.

"We want this event to be a big success," Mrs. Pomeroy said. "The money made through the show will help enrich the senior citizens' club treasury."

Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1 is the oldest club in the city. It operates in cooperation with the Romulus Recreation Department.

K of C Council assists vicariate

The Maximilian Kolbe Council 6549 of the Knights of Columbus has donated a check to the Western Wayne County Vicariate of the Catholic Church.

A $157.74 check to help finance the education of mentally handicapped youngsters in the Vicariate has been donated by the council following a successful fund-raising campaign in April.

According to Edgar Hungerford of the Knights of Columbus, the funds were raised through a "Tootsie Roll" candy sale, scheduled for three days in April. Residents of Belleville, Romulus and New Boston were involved in the fund-raising effort.

"We're hoping to have another drive soon, and hope to top this latest donation by a great amount," Hungerford said. "We're proud to donate the money, but we don't think it's nearly enough to benefit youngsters who have such a tough life ahead of them because of their handicaps."

The check was donated to The Rev. John Buehner, The Rev. Raymond Skoney and The Rev. Alexander Wyttrwall as representatives of the Vicariate.

Postal holiday upcoming

The U. S. Postal System will be operating on a holiday schedule on Monday, the day set aside nationally for the observance of Columbus Day.

Belleville Postmaster R. J. O'Neill said there will be no regular residential or business mail delivery on that day, while special delivery and the lock box service will be provided on a Sunday schedule. Limited caller service also will be available.

The stamp vending machine, located in the lobby of the Belleville Post Office, will be available for use by the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, and mail will be collected from mail boxes in the business district as late in the day as possible to meet the first-class mail service standards.

Normal weekend mail service will be provided on Saturday and Sunday.

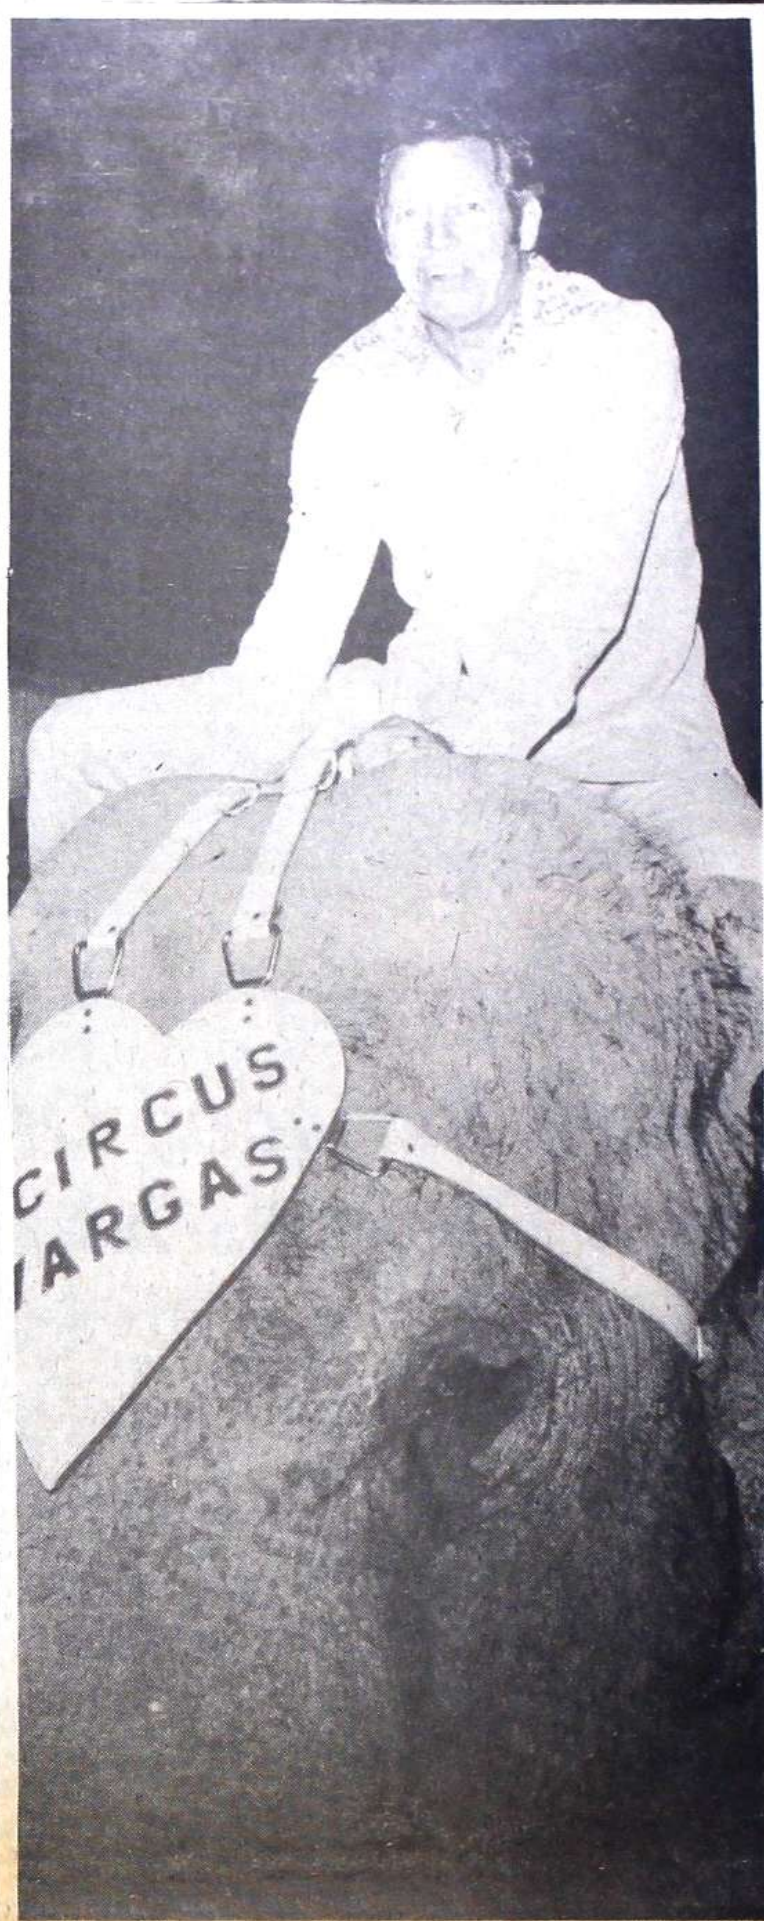

Hay set as club president

Hazen Hay will lead the Romulus Kiwanis Club during 1976-77.

Hay, who was installed as president Thursday during ceremonies at St. Aloysius School, will serve with Robert Martin, first vice-president; Andrew Lopota, second vice-president; David Ferdon, secretary, and Thomas Janack, treasurer.

Michigan Kiwanis Lt. Gov. Gene Overholt conducted the installation. Elected to the Kiwanis board of directors were Simon Binder, Gervazio Canejo, Carl Morris, Gideon Pettway, Lngg Coleman, Jerry Hagerman and Fred Hay.

Other highlights of the evening, which also was marked by Ladies Night, was the welcoming of O.W. "Bill" Simonds as a new member, and the presentation of a 20-year perfect attendance pin to Hay.

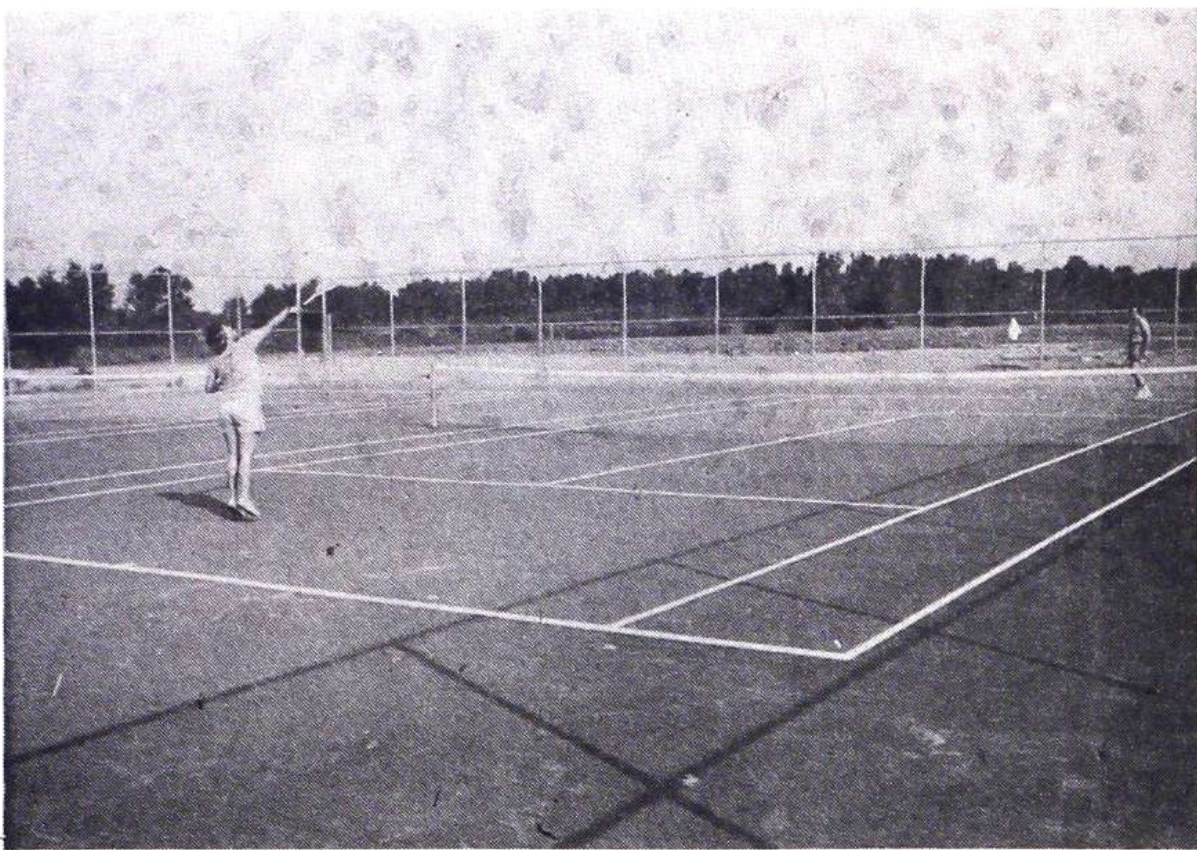

Who else!

When you are the "star" in city government, starring in the circus parade comes naturally, or so thought Romulus Mayor James Stewart who found climbing aboard an elephant was harder than it looked. The mayor rode the pachyderm around the big top of Circus Vargas during one performance of the circus's 3-day visit to Western Wayne County. The circus was in Westland in a fund-raising effort staged by the Wayne County Sheriff Deputies Association, and featured everything from clowns, lions and tigers to the "daring young man on the flying trapeze." — Photo by ANP chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko.

Youth Services Office nets Mrs. Drew as its director

The new Wayne County Office of Youth Services has its first director following the appointment of Jeanette Benton Drew, a child development specialist and educator, to that post by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Mrs. Drew, a resident of northwest Detroit, was chosen on the basis of a competitive civil service examination.

"The Wayne County Office of Youth Services will be responsible for planning and coordination of the most effective use of millions in county, state and federal dollars for dealing with the problems of youth," Board Chairman John Barr said. "We are delighted to have a professional of Mrs. Drew's caliber as director because her office will have a significant impact on youth problems in Wayne County."

Mrs. Drew, 47, currently is an administrator for the Parent Effectiveness Co., providing in-service training and consulting services to a variety of organizations, including the Detroit Board of Education Head Start Project and the Detroit Model Cities program.

In addition to several social work positions, Mrs. Drew also has served as a consultant to the U.S. Peace Corps and as an instructor and project director at Wayne State University (WSU), and as an instructor at Wayne County Community College.

She holds a master of arts degree in human development and family relations from Wayne State University (WSU) and has completed her work toward a doctor of philosophy degree in educational sociology at WSU. She is a state-certified social worker.

The Wayne County Office of Youth Services recently was created by the County Board of Commissioners to plan and coordinate all county youth programs and to act as liaison with all non-county youth service agencies. The commissioners allocated $250,000 in this year's county budget to staff and equip the new office. Mrs. Drew's salary will be $24,083.

A 27-member Citizens Advisory Board on Youth Services also was established by the Board of Commissioners. The Advisory Board consists of citizens, youth members and representatives of youth-serving agencies, counsels the Office of Youth Services and the Board of Commissioners in the development of youth programs.

The Advisory Board held its first meeting recently and established the reduction of juvenile delinquency as its top priority.

State catches up on women's 'laws'

The often heard sayings of "It's men's work" or "You won't catch me washing dishes, that's women's work" are slowly becoming a thing of the past and the State of Michigan is slowly catching up with the new trend in living, according to Attorney General Frank Kelley.

In Michigan, the law at one time prohibited employers from hiring women for jobs that required lifting 35 pounds or more, and female minors were prohibited from working in factories from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. or allowed to take jobs delivering messages or packages, the attorney general said.

These laws, however, have been ruled invalid, and today people can be hired for their own abilities, not on the basis of what "most men" or "most women" are capable of doing, he added.

While those old laws were meant to protect young women, what they really did was keep them safely unemployed, he said, adding. "Unfortunately, society—and the rules it runs by—often lag a bit behind reality, but we're catching up."

AUTO FACTS

By Chester Kosin

The fluids that keep your battery, radiator, brakes, power steering, engine, and automatic transmission functioning smoothly need to be checked and replenished periodically. When you do these simple jobs, park your car on level ground. Battery electrolyte should be checked monthly in winter and weekly in summer, when its water content evaporates faster. Uncap and inspect each of the cells separately. The electrolyte must cover the lead plates in each cell. If the level is below the ring in the neck of the filler well, add tap water or distilled water.

Get your car ready for cold weather driving with quality parts and accessories from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. We have one of the largest inventories of parts for foreign and domestic cars in the area and offer fast, dependable counter service. Our knowledgeable staff will be happy to help you choose the parts you need to keep your car running at its best. Have repair work done by expert machinists in our complete machine shop; we turn brake drums, grind valves, and even rebuild engines. Call us at 563-3894. We are open weekdays from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. Bank Americard and Master Charge are honored.

Lasagne, turnovers: Cafeteria bills of fare

Italian lasagne and beef turnovers will be only part of the main entrees that will be served in the elementary and junior high school cafeterias of the Van Buren Public School District.

On tap for elementary school students Monday will be a menu of juice, pizza, potato chips, fruit, ice bird and milk, followed by spaghetti with meat sauce, vegetable, bread and butter, fruit Jell-O, bavarian and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the cafeterias will be serving juice, beef turnovers with gravy, mashed potatoes and gravy, cookies and milk.

Next Thursday the bill of fare will be soup, pizza, vegetable, cole slaw or salad, cake and milk, with juice, fishwich, tator tots, fruit Jell-O, cobbler and milk rounding out the week.

In the junior high schools, the menu Monday will be bowls of chili, hot dogs on buns, potato chips, fruit, cookies and milk, followed by juice, sloppy joes on buns, french fries, fruit Jell-O, cake and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the main entree will be spaghetti with cheese and tomato sauce or Italian veal cutlet, with side dishes of bread and butter, fruit, pudding and milk.

Next Wednesday the menu will include juice, Italian lasagne, bread and butter, fruit, cobbler and milk, with soup, fishwich, potato chips, cole slaw, bavarian and milk rounding out the week.

The alternate lunch selection will include main dishes of Belleville burgers Monday, steak sandwiches on hoagie buns with lettuce and tomato Tuesday, Coney Island footlongs next Wednesday, Belleville burgers with cheese next Thursday and two tacos next Friday. Served with the main dishes are side orders of french fries or tator gems, dessert and milk.

For the remainder of this week in the Lincoln Consolidated School District, students will be dining on a menu of tacos with lettuce and tomatoes, green beans, cake and milk tomorrow and fish on buns, cabbage salad, orange juice, ice cream and milk Friday.

Starting off next week will be a menu of chili with crackers, fruit salad, cinnamon rolls and milk, followed by hot dogs on buns, potato chips, buttered vegetable, chilled fruit and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the menu will be meat and gravy, mashed potatoes, relishes, rolls, cake and milk, with barbeque on buns, tator tots, fruit, cookies and milk slated for next Thursday.

Rounding out the week will be a lineup of fish sandwiches, vegetable, orange juice, ice cream and milk.

St. Aloysius to open special ed instruction

Special education classes for exceptional children in the St. Aloysius Parish of Romulus will re-open at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the parish school.

The classes, which will be held on Saturday mornings from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., are for physically and mentally handicapped children in special education classes in school.

The youngsters, 6 years and up, will be taught religion through prayer and Scripture and by participating in Christian services such as working for the poor and visiting the sick.

Individual teaching on a 1-to-1 basis will be a special feature of the religious instruction.

Organizers of the classes are urging parents to give their children "an opportunity to learn to love of God at the level of his or her understanding".

Keeps dangerous criminals off streets

Social Services sets new juvenile policy

Juveniles charged with serious offenses won't be back on the streets very quickly under a new policy established by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Starting this month, all youth convicted of major felonies, such as murder, rape, aggravated assault or armed robbery, and committed to the department will be placed at a secure custody facility.

In addition, youngsters placed in the community who later commit any felony will face a hearing before either the court or the department's Parole and Review Board.

These and other steps have been taken by the Social Services Department in response to growing concern about youth crime in the Wayne County area, where some 1,400 state wards currently are under the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Social Services Department.

A particular concern in the county is the large number of state wards in the Wayne County Youth Home. To meet this problem, the Social Services Department has:

—Established a system of predisposition conferences involving court and department personnel to agree on placement —Developed a monitoring service to make sure that youngsters are removed from the Youth Home as soon as possible.

—Taken steps to open a second intake center within the next 30 days.

—Opened, on an interim basis, an additional wing at the W. J. Maxey Boys Training School in Whitmore Lake for emergency placements —Opened additional cottages for boys at the Adrian Training School.

—Developed a plan to add 60 beds at the Maxey facility, if needed.

McGoff warns against African boycott

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corp., has warned a Senate panel that Congress would make a tragic mistake if it attempted to limit or ban outright American private investments in South Africa in order to force that country to change its racial policies.

Such a move, the Michigan-based publisher stressed, would be counter productive from an economic and diplomatic sense and also would have important anti-humane consequences since "blacks there would be hurt first and hurt the most."

McGoff, in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Africa, pointed out that American influence had eroded the traditional class systems of western Europe in the years since World War II and could be expected ultimately to dilute South Africa's apartheid, or racial separation, restrictions.

McGoff did not defend South Africa's racial policies which he pointed out were being modified by the South African government in any event. Under questioning by the panel chairman, Sen. Dick Clark (D-Iowa), McGoff predicted that eventually blacks "would be accepted into the central government because South African leaders are realists" and realize events are moving in that direction.

Clark doubted that Prime Minister John Vorster's white minority government would "willingly share power with blacks."

McGoff made no apology for his own business interests in South Africa and praised the South African government's program encouraging the training of blacks for careers in an urbanized society. McGoff's printing activities operate in accordance with that plan. He explained:

"Under the program, administered by the Bantu Investment Corporation, a government agency, our company is required to hire a majority of blacks and to train and educate them in all phases of our business—running printing presses, both letter press and offset presses, as well as sheet-fed presses, computers, binders, linotypes and so on."

This effort, he added, not only gives blacks steady employment under good working conditions, but aims to train them in management and sales so that they can take over management of the plant and all of its assets within 17 years.

"This is truly free enterprise working at its best—working to be profitable and at the same time training those who only a few years ago were still living the past of 2,000 years ago," he said.

McGoff said an economically healthy South Africa was necessary for the realization of any plans to improve living conditions in the new black African countries.

"I am convinced that if the African continent is to move forward as a viable economic entity in the world of community of nations, it will require South African economic capabilities, as well as that country's vast resources of strategic minerals and technological know how," he explained.

The worst possible course for the United States to take would be to impose an economic boycott on South Africa, he said, adding:

"Such an action has a similar impact to a naval blockade, and can be interpreted as an aggression just short of all-out war."

McGoff praised Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to head off a massive race war in southern Africa. He said he felt his own private efforts in recent years to open lines of communication between American and South African leaders had tended to influence the Ford Administration to give a higher priority to the solution of southern African problems.

As we see it

Black American influence vital to African peace

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger needs the support of all Americans for his efforts to keep the Soviet Union from promoting a racial war in southern Africa.

If there ever was a time when Americans—black and white alike—should close ranks behind a foreign policy initiative this is it.

It would be a shame if Kissinger's efforts became entangled with our presidential election campaign. Nothing could be more short sighted than to allow the Russians to take the ball away from us now.

Black Americans, particularly, have a tailor-made opportunity to show the world the scope of their political sophistication, to serve the long range interests of their own country and to help the mass of black Africans to avoid Moscow's machinations.

Hopefully, Rep. Charles Diggs (D-Mich.) and other members of the Congressional Black Caucus recognize the true nature of the situation developing in southern Africa.

Whether the projected negotiating machinery, designed to bring about a peaceful transition to black majority rule in Rhodesia, succeeds or not will depend on many factors.

But American black leaders, operating tactfully from the sidelines, can help prevent a bloodbath in Rhodesia that would produce only one group of winners—the Kremlin plotters who see all-out war as the way to spread Communist influence and control. As a general proposition this also holds true regarding the future of South West Africa (Namibia).

American blacks have considerable influence with black African leaders and they know it. Also Communist propaganda should be easier for an American black to see through than for some black Africans just beginning to grasp the convoluted world of diplomacy.

Hopefully, responsible American blacks will somehow get the word to their African cousins to study carefully the implications of Kissinger's annual policy speech at the United Nations General Assembly.

Kissinger bluntly told the Soviet Union to halt its "crude attempts" to sabotage the new attempt to reach peaceful solutions to southern Africa.

He stressed that "there can be no selective defense"—a clear warning that any repetition elsewhere in Africa of the Soviet-Cuban intervention in Angola could poison American-Soviet relations with all that means in terms of lost hopes for world order.

In some American radical-chic circles it has become unfashionable to suggest that the Soviet Union continues to possess aggressive instincts. As usual these people have blinded themselves to reality, as Kissinger is well aware.

Experts who analyze Soviet publications have found clear evidence that at least one group in the Kremlin feels frustrated by the prospect that southern Africa may escape a bitter racial war.

These people see protracted guerrilla operations and other forms of armed struggle as a means for eliminating the bourgeois elements in Africa and herding the black masses into the Communist camp. The very suffering such a war would bring to all races and peoples would tend to radicalize the masses, so these people argue.

Fortunately these Soviet "hawks" do not appear to be in complete control of Kremlin policy yet. There also appears to be a more cautious Soviet group—the group to which Kissinger directed his remarks.

The "doves" are just as anxious, presumably, to extend Soviet influence as the "hawks" but they caution against diverting the course of recent American-Soviet relations.

Clearly, the Rhodesian negotiations themselves will face many difficulties. These can be solved, however, if the Russians do not push their evil scheme and if the black and white negotiators alike genuinely seek a peaceful solution.

Commonsense Views on Uncommon Issues

State spending limitation in the hands of taxpayers

By HARRY R. HALL
Retired President
Michigan State Chamber of Commerce

Another proposal for a graduated income tax will be on the ballot on November 2. On two separate occasions in recent years Michigan voters have rejected, by sizable margins, this form of taxation. At each of these elections the issue was clear cut. The language was simple. The proposal was void of deception or confusion. Voters knew that they were voting on a proposal to amend the constitution to allow the legislature to impose a graduated income tax. They disapproved. That part of the constitution prohibiting the tax remained intact.

This latest proposal, identified on the ballot as Proposal D, poses an entirely different problem. This year, sponsors have devised a more subtle, though less honest, approach. It is designed to delude voters, not to inform them. This Proposal D is not presented to the voters as a straight-forward constitutional amendment to Article IX, Section 7, which now prohibits a graduated income tax, although that is the primary purpose of the issue. It is being heralded as "The Fair Share Plan"—as the "Roll Back The Michigan Income Tax" plan—as a "Cut The Michigan Income Tax" plan. It is necessary to read the fine print buried in the middle of the long text to learn that it says, "The prohibition of an income tax with a variable rate or base is eliminated."

This proposal is full of hypocrisy at a highly organized level. It is the most brazen attempt to bamboozle the voting public that I have observed in more than 30 years as an advocacy organization executive. The public should be aware of the guileful tactics employed to get it on the ballot as well as the consequences of the proposal if it should be approved by some unfortunate circumstance.

This issue is being presented to the voters without the certification of the Board of State Canvassers. The Michigan Court of Appeals made the baffling decision to allow a vote at this election. Counsel for seven complainants presented detailed documentary evidence to the Board of Canvassers outlining a series of irregularities that cast the shadow of illegality on all the petitions. Numerous discrepancies were disclosed as a result of a sampling by a certified public accountant. These complaints were shown to be contrary to Michigan law.

The voting public has a right to question the motives and the plot of the sponsors of this proposal. In my opinion, voters of all political faiths should feel insulted to be considered so stupid that they would not see through this facade. Example of a few of the tricks to fool them will illustrate the point. As Plautus said, "Forewarned is forearmed."

The front for getting signatures on petitions was The Michigan Citizens' Lobby. Just what or how many citizens this organization represents is uncertain. I suggest not many ordinary citizens. This is the same organized front that placed the exemption of carry out food and prescription drugs on the ballot through initiative petition with the promise that no new replacement tax would be enacted. When the legislature, through necessity, increased the income tax to meet commitments, the so-called Citizens' Lobby remained strangely silent. Not one word of protest was heard.

Now this same group is hustling this Proposal D as a Roll Back of the Income Tax from 4.6 percent to 3.9 percent for incomes of $20,000 or less. The decrease is the identical amount of the previous increase made necessary by their actions then. Again the self-proclaimed citizens' lobby is silent about a catch in this tax cut. They fail to point out in their publicity that the decrease is for one year only. That is found in the small print too. After one year from the effective date of the amendment, the legislature would be authorized to impose any rate on any base on all taxpayers. The tax cut idea is nothing more than bait to get approval for removing constitutional restraints on the graduated income tax.

Also, taxpayers are reminded that the lost revenues from the one-year temporary roll back would be replaced by graduated tax with no limits on degree of graduation on the rest of the victimized public. The sponsors do not have the honesty to call this an income tax. They try to hoodwink the voters by labeling it as a "luxury tax." Side show pitchmen at the traveling carnival would seldom stoop to such a sham.

If this whole scheme were not so arrogant and the implications not so serious it would be a joke. The ensuing laughter in this case should express the same derision the sponsors have displayed toward the intelligence of the mass of citizens of the state. If the majority of the taxpayers want a graduated income tax that is their privilege. They should know what they are getting and not be duped into thinking they are getting a tax cut and nothing else.

On the brighter side

'Lothar' records, makes news

By JIM BRADLEY

A short time ago Lothar Konietzko, chief shutterbug of Associated Newspapers, asked me what my column was going to be for that week. He then proceeded to give me an idea for a column (which all writers eagerly look for).

"Why don't you write something about the 'violence' taking place in Romulus?" he asked, referring to a rash of unfortunate incidents plaguing that city at the time.

Lothar's suggestion was still on the "back burner" until last week when I got a hurry-up call from the editor to cover a meeting of local postmasters in Romulus. He said I could ride with Lothar, and who could pass up an opportunity to ride in Lothar's Volkswagen? That's an experience in itself—riding with this interesting camera character. Lothar is known far and wide throughout Wayne County, and even the state of Michigan for the numerous photography awards and honors he has won.

He's especially known in the areas where Associated Newspapers are circulated—Wayne, Canton, Westland, Belleville, Romulus and Van Buren Township. Mention the name "Lothar" and just about everybody who knows their town knows who you're talking about.

Lothar was born in Germany and suffered under Hitler's regime. He saw first hand man's inhumanity to man and the horrors of war. When he came to this country and started working for Associated Newspapers, he couldn't speak English. I'm told he needed an interpreter when he first started shooting pictures, but he learned fast and has become probably the most identifiable symbol of Associated Newspapers.

He's been covering all kinds of civic, club and social events in Wayne County for the past 21 years. He's the Prince Charming of the senior citizens, the laughing, good-natured darling of the service clubs he frequents so often, snapping pictures of familiar faces he's known for years.

Lothar's hair is now tinged with white but he retains his unbounded enthusiasm despite the passing years. And his sensitivity to people and their needs is still as acute as ever.

Perhaps that's why it's such a pleasure to be with Lothar and share his excitement with life—even though he's been disappointed and hurt many times by those he has helped.

When the boss asked me to cover this meeting of postmasters, I wanted to carry out his instructions "to the letter." Lothar had just had his Volkswagen bumped out and had it freshly painted bright red. It gleamed like a large tomato in the sun.

Lothar and I buzzed along in his shiny VW to this assignment in Romulus. We covered the meeting at a well-known motel near Metropolitan Airport and even ate in their luxurious dining room.

When we emerged from the Inn, Lothar noticed something on the side of his car door. A large print from someone's shoe had been jammed against the passenger's door, and over on the driver's door, three large unsightly nicks marred the new paint. Someone had seen Lothar's auxiliary camera case on the back seat of the VW and tried to jam their way into the car to steal it.

Lothar, sentimental soul that he is, just stared at his damaged car in disbelief. "Why would anyone want to do a dirty trick like that?" he asked, slowly shaking his head, as he tried to make himself believe it hadn't actually happened.

Ironically, it was Lothar who had received a tip of this meeting of local postmasters and passed the news along to the editor who assigned him to the story. And I was sent along to cover the story while Lothar shot the pictures—a job he does as well as anyone in the state.

Actually, when Lothar suggested I write about unfortunate incidents happening in Romulus, I never thought I'd end up writing about it. Even less did I ever imagine that Lothar would be with me when I did write about—and even wind up being the victim.

But that's the sign of a good newspaperman like Lothar. He not only reports the news, he actually makes it happen.

The old family well

On a visit back to the farm
I saw the old family well.
The memories of it is a story I'm going to tell.
Back in my childhood many years ago
we drew water from this old well.
To be used by our household.
It seems I can still hear mother saying say draw some water as the bucket is almost dry.
The memory now of her voice just makes me want to cry.
And from a wooden bucket, with a rope tied to its pail,
I would unwind the old windlass and let it go down into the well.
The water I drew up would be clear and cool. And from an old gourd dipper that hung there I would drink a cup or two. Then it was carried into the kitchen and sat on the cook table. Mother used many a bucket of it for cooking and mopping when she was able.

And, of course, we all drank it. When we were thirsty and wanted a drink from the old dipper, germs we didn't think. Many a gallon of water would be drawn up by that old rope, for we had to wash our clothes, too, by using a tub, rub board and soap. We would let our chickens drink, our cat and dog, too, this nice cool water from the well we drew. Oh, there are so many memories, all I cannot tell, of when I lived on the farm and we used this old family well.

As Panax sees it

People need 'straight' talk from Detroit

By JOHN MCGOFF
President, Panax Newspapers

Detroiters and the unrepresented Detroit taxpayers residents of Wayne and Macomb Counties have, we believe, some mighty pertinent questions as a result of the Young-Tannian-Blount-Harvel shootouts of the past week.

To recap: Detroit Mayor Coleman Young fired Police Chief Phillip Tannian. Young's crony, Executive Deputy Chief Frank Blount went on educational leave after his name was linked with a drug ring and payoff conspiracy investigation being conducted by federal officers. Deputy Chief Reginald Harvel, a self described Blount protege, is found shot to death in his bathroom. It is called a suicide despite the obvious fact that the first .38 caliber bullet was not fatal.

Young's public reason for firing

Tannian was that Tannian had not told him, seven months ago, about the federal drug investigation. He needed that information, Young proclaimed, for "management decisions."

What "management decisions"? Young never has been known for management ability. The mayor's office is the first job he's had we know of where management talent is required. And he didn't need that talent to get elected. He needed it after he won the job. There's considerable public doubt he had it or has it.

If "management decisions" was not the reason what was?

If Young had felt he could, against a background of his own interference, justify Tannian's firing because of incompetent administration he would have done just that. We don't believe he could.

There are other questions.

Some things have to be said

John P. McGoff

On the issues

Why the tender treatment of Blount apparently on Young's direct orders? Blount also is involved in the drug investigation although there is no word on the extent. Blount, it must be remembered, was promoted and supported by Young throughout the Tannian regime and was engaged in a bitter feud with Tannian most of that time. Tannian is fired because he didn't tell Young about the drug investigation. Blount goes on educational leave at full pay because he is involved in the drug investigation.

Makes sense doesn't it?

Why did Harvel commit suicide? Did he, indeed, commit suicide? There was no note. He was a known confidant of Blount's and thus on Young's list of favorites. Can a man shoot himself once in the chest, recover from the shock and then shoot himself again—this time through the heart—within a matter of minutes? And without getting powder burns on his hands?

Perhaps.

Why is Tannian so reticent about the drug investigation and where it is going? He refused to answer any questions. Was he sworn to secrecy—as he says he was by the federal investigators because the probe was going higher in the city administration than the police department?

Or is Tannian playing games and using the secrecy pledge as a shield behind which he hopes to make trouble for Young?

Somebody owes the people of Southeast Michigan some answers. The time for secrecy has passed. There's no secrecy about President Ford's golf outings or maritime union contributions. Neither of those items comes anywhere near being as serious to the people of Southeast Michigan as the current mayor-police-fed drug imbroglio.

This newspaper hasn't changed its mind that Coleman Young is a symbol of Detroit's troubles and there won't be a start on curing them until he's removed from the scene.

There are three ways to do this: He could and should resign. But he won't. He can be impeached by city council. Or he can be recalled in an election.

Neither of the latter two avenues takes too much time. But some honest, straight talk from the people conducting the drug conspiracy investigation would do much to clear the air. Either the mayor's office and some of his high police officials or former officials are involved or they are not.

The people have a right to know now.

Over abortion issue

WASHINGTON — Telegraphed through our national press, a blunt message is being sent to the Catholic bishops: Get off the abortion issue, or find your Church the target of a political backlash which will diminish Catholic acceptance in right-thinking circles, and set back your ecumenical movement 25 years.

Yours is neither a moral nor a political issue, the bishops are being warned. It is a matter to be settled between the pregnant woman and her doctor. So, stay out!

Interestingly, the influential who want the bishops to censor themselves on abortion are the same crowd who coaxed the clergy to speak out in favor of poverty programs, civil rights laws and against the war in Vietnam.

So long as the Catholic establishment was lending its energy to causes that were liberal and trendy, like boycotting lettuce and grapes, its support was welcome. The contribution was taken as a sign of spreading enlightenment in a community always suspect among the intelligentsia.

Now, however, the bishops are speaking up in earnest in a cause the

But if there was ever a question on which Catholic bishops have a moral duty to speak out, it is on the systematic destruction of human life taking place in our country by virtue of the Supreme Court's appalling decision legalizing abortion on demand. As Dante wrote, there is a special place in hell for those who, in times of moral crisis, take a neutral stand.

If assisting the right-to-life movement is going to cost Catholic clergy a host of friends and make the Church unpopular, then it is time the Church became unpopular. As one recalls, except for a raucous period around Palm Sunday, the Founder of the Church was not all that popular either.

Catholics are 25 percent of the voting population. And there needs to be among them a new awareness of their common strength, a new militancy, a new sense of political purpose. For the last decade they have been serving as poorly paid foot soldiers to the white knights of American liberalism.

When national Democrats demanded poverty programs and civil rights laws for black Americans, Catholics supported the cause. When Jewish Democrats wanted the U. S. to provide the military wherewithal for the Israelis to maintain a Jewish state, the Catholics backed their Jewish brethren.

But when the Catholic Democrats asked their liberal leaders for financial help in saving the parochial schools, they were told such help violated the First Amendment. When they asked the national Democrats not to let their neighborhoods be busted up with public housing, or their kids bused across town to some strange school, they were called bigots. With a quarter of the population, Catholics hold an estimated 10 percent of the faculty posts at institutes of higher education. There are quotas for feminists, Spanish-speaking and Comanches — none for Irish, Italians, and Poles.

Over the last decade, the Catholic community has had its loyalty to the national Democrats rewarded with table scraps.

One of LBJ's better lines came during his vice presidential campaign in the 1960 Kennedy-Nixon race. Standing on the rear platform of his "Southern Special," Lyndon bellowed to his audience: "What has Richard Nixon ever done for Culpepper, Virginia?"

Well, the question arises in another form. What has Walter Mondale ever done for St. Aloysius?

Campaign starting to crack?

Carter 'thin-skinned' to press criticism?

WASHINGTON — "Gerald Ford has had a free ride with the press," insisted Jimmy Carter's top aide, Hamilton Jordan, "while they have scrutinized every move of Carter."

The former Georgia governor made the same complaint privately to a group of 10 reporters recently. In effect, he accused the press of picking on him. The complaint is strange and at the same time reveals what many of us in the media have long suspected about Carter: beneath that confident, beaming smile lurks a man with a short fuse and a thin skin.

The fact is most of the "press picking on Carter" are reporting a series of political blunders on Carter's part. For example, the now famous, or infamous depending on your point of view, Playboy interview Carter gave was widely reported because it was news. It was news because a "born again" Southern Baptist would be the last person you would expect to give an interview to a porno magazine like Playboy.

Frank Mankiewicz, former aide to the late Robert F. Kennedy, campaign manager for Sen. George McGovern in 1972 and now a key advisor to the Carter campaign, made a revealing comment to this columnist during a local TV appearance. Our conversation with him centered not on the press play of the Playboy interview, but what Mankiewicz thought was down-right poor judgment of Carter people in giving the interview in the first place.

"I just don't understand," he said to me with despair, "why someone in the Carter organization just didn't tell Carter that the Playboy interview was not worth the trouble it would cause. You know, when I was working with Bobby (Kennedy) I used to have a rule of thumb when I discussed with him a possible interview with a magazine he had not read. He used to say: 'It's fine with me, Frank, but is it a magazine I can take home to my children?"

The Carter complaint and oblique attack on the press reporting of his campaign raises two possibilities. First, that the Carter campaign is starting to crack under the strain as the former Georgia governor's political fortunes continue to decline from an unprecedented all-time high. Second, that Carter may be prepared to uncork a strategy that he successfully employed when running for governor of Georgia in 1970.

During that campaign Carter ran against "the establishment" that included the Atlanta newspapers which were critical of his running what he himself described as a "redneck" campaign. Reg Murphy, then with the Atlanta Constitution, states that during Carter's statewide campaign he singled out three of "the big shots" as the enemy: the local businessman, the sheriff, and the local newspaper.

"He identified," Murphy stated, "the sheriff and the banker and the newspaperman as evil guys and did it very successfully."

In his campaign biography, "Why Not the Best?" Carter conceded that his biggest problem was the Atlanta newspapers, but he contends that their "attacks actually backfired, because it projected me into a position of prominence among the many candidates in the race." What Carter does not say is that he had, so Murphy revealed, deliberately made the press an issue to project the image of the unbossed outsider. But he does admit that during his 1970 campaign his "worst mistake involved one of the Atlanta newspapers."

Now as presidential candidate, he may be making an even greater error in complaining that the press is picking on him. Not because the press stories may hurt him, but because of what his complaints say about Carter himself and his campaign. In contrast, President Ford has silently taken a beating from the press, including this reporter, in the last six months — from the series of stories of his "stumbling" to falling down ski slopes to the pursuit by the press of charges against Mr. Ford that he accepted free vacation trips from businessmen when he was a Congressman and as vice-president.

Carter's carping about press coverage of his campaign may be the reflection of a man with a short fuse and thin skin. Or it could well be a repeat of his 1970 campaign ploy. Nevertheless, it does illustrate that the public image of Carter is peeling and flaking.

His official gavel

Following a tradition set years ago by former Kiwanis wives, Sharon Richendollar presents her husband, Jim, with the gavel he will use as he heads the Belleville Kiwanis Club for the 1976-77 year. Richendollar, along with his co-officers and board of directors, was officially installed during ceremonies Sept. 28 at North Junior High School. J. C. Clark (center) a former club president and past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis District Nine was installing officer for the evening.

Belleville Kiwanians install new officers

The Belleville Kiwanis Club held its 31st annual installation of officers Sept. 28 at North Junior High School. Forty-nine members and wives were present for the 6:30 p.m. dinner.

Bill Matthews, who headed the club for 1975-76, received his past president's pin from his wife, Sharon, and his past president's ring from the new club president, Jim Richendollar.

J.D. Clark, a member of the Belleville club who served as president in 1958 and as Past Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis District No. 9, served as installing officer.

The new board of directors includes Fred Hudson, Marv Wenzel, Ron Sierota, Ralph Hedman, Clyde Batzer, Bert Smith and Gerald Miller.

Officers for the 1976-77 year are president, Jim Richendollar, principal of North Junior High School; first vice-president, William Chizmar, principal of Elwell Elementary School; second vice-president, Gerald Graf, veterinarian; third vice-president, David Larabell, teacher at Sumpter Elementary School; fourth vice-president, Frank Herr, retail foods representative; secretary, Jim Fitch, teacher at Haggerty Elementary School, and treasurer, Olin Wyman, retired banker.

Richendollar, after being presented with his president's pin and gavel by his wife, Sharon, then spoke on the meaning of Kiwanis and expressed his appreciation for the support he had received during his vice-presidencies.

Projects set by the club for the ensuing year include the Christmas tree sale, the President's Ball, the Easter flower sale, Kiwanis-Rotary-Lions golf outing; punt, pass and kick contest; corn roast and popcorn sale. All proceeds from sales are used for youth, senior citizens, church and community services. The Kiwanis Club also supports the Mott's Childrens Hospital in Ann Arbor through the Forney-Clement organization's "Mott tot pot" collections.

BHS seniors outstanding in test

Three seniors at Belleville High School have been named Commended Students in the Merit Program by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). Belleville High School Principal John Ford announced that letters of commendation were presented to Lisa Chen, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen Chen of 11933 Belleville Rd., Belleville; Karen Dickerson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickerson of 2789 Denton Rd., Belleville, and David Thompson, the son of Mrs. Carol Thompson of 1334 Jeff St., Ypsilanti.

The trio was among 35,000 Commended Students nationwide who are being recognized for their outstanding performance on the 1975 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT).

Commended Students represent less than two percent of the nation's secondary school senior class. Although Commended Students scored below the level required for the 15,000 semi-finalists who will continue in the Merit Scholarship competition, their test performance indicates exceptional academic promise.

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said, "The high standing of Commended Students in the Merit Program shows their great promise, and their attainment in this nationwide competition deserves public recognition. Commended Students should be encouraged to continue their education; our nation as well as the students will benefit from their further educational and personal development."

To increase their opportunities for college, NMSC makes it possible for regionally accredited U. S. colleges to obtain, on a cost basis, the home addresses of commended students.

High school students offered free courses on study of alcoholism

High and junior high school students are invited to apply for the free training course on alcoholism which the Archdiocesan Catholic Youth Organization will present on the weekend of Nov. 5 and 6. Sessions will be held at the Gabriel Richard Building and Sobriety House in Detroit.

Michelle Allen, program director, is working out the details of the course which will consider all facets of the history of alcohol and its use and abuse. Specialists will address the students. In addition to the distinguished guest speakers, adult volunteers and Youth Council members will work with students and coordinate their action projects.

The Friday night session will run from 7 to 10 p.m., on the second floor of the Gabriel Richard Building. The Saturday program will go from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Sobriety House, 2081 West Grand Boulevard.

All students who successfully complete the crash course will be eligible for admittance to the nationally acclaimed CYO Youth Council on Alcohol. This is an organization of teenagers who have won national recognition for their effective work in alerting their peers to the realities of the use and abuse of alcohol.

This marks the beginning of the fifth year of operation for the CYO program on alcohol-alcoholism and the Youth Council. More than 300 teens have completed past training courses and earned membership on the council.

For further details, contact Ms. Allen at the CYO headquarters, 305 Michigan Avenue, telephone 963-7172.

Girl Scouts gather for ceremonies

This is the time of year when girls and adults gather to renew their beliefs and gain strength through their Girl Scout Promise and Law. Bridging and rededication ceremonies were held on two different occasions recently at Haggerty Elementary and North Junior High Schools.

Three Junior troops and four Brownie Troops gathered at Haggerty School for a solemn ceremony in which fourth grade girls receive their wings, say goodbye to their friends in their Brownie Troop and cross the bridge to begin a 3-year experience as a Junior Girl Scout.

Members of the color guard for the evening were Dawn Coles, Wendy Pieknik, Dawn Henry, Debbie Jacobson, Dawn Delaforce, Lisa Gonczy, Lisa Anthony, Pattie Gillingham, Ronie Sue Mayer, Valerie Stover, Ann Krafve, Ann Oliver, Karen Simmons and Cheryl McManus.

Year pins were awarded to more than 90 girls.

Mrs. Belinda Garland, Mrs. Donna Coles, Mrs. Faye Traskos, Mrs. Diane Gonczy and Mr. Frank Keltman received leader year pins after completing their first full year as Girl Scout leaders.

A 5-year pin was awarded to Mrs. Barbara Thomas.

Kelly Kosmalki of Junior Troop 668 was presented a Sign of the Arrow award by her leader, Mrs. Dulce Jacobson.

After receiving their Brownie wings members of Troops 486, 736, 744 and 374 were taken to the bridge. They were then received and pinned by members of Junior Troops 668, 734 and 616. The Brownie fly-ups were Kimberly Calvin, Sharon Feltman, Dawn Thomas, Amy Delaforce, Sheila Del Guidice, Yvonne May, Diana Paul, Deborah Schmidt, Lisa Watson, Brenda Younts, Cheryl Luebke, Becky McArthur, Sherry Charkiewicz, Lori Gonczy, Karen Herrmann and Lara Widener.

The following week found the same three troops gathered at North Junior High with members of Cadette Troop 745. This time Junior Scouts were saying good-bye to their friends who were leaving to join the Cadette program level.

The opening and closing ceremonies were under the direction of Stephanie Baumgardner. Other scouts in the 10-member color guard were Kim Black, Kathy Zager, Pam Callahan, Penny Hedman, Margaret Kubetski, Donna Younts, Mary Messer Karen Simmons and Glenna Gillingham.

Mrs. Gerry Grieve, Cadette leader, had the honor of presenting the Sign of the Arrow award to Jenna Oliver who was a member of Troop 616. Members of Troop 745 were presented their year pins.

As the members of the Junior troops hummed the tune "Make New Friends", Jenna Oliver Donna Younts, Kelli Kosmalki and Robin Kraemer were welcomed into the Cadette troop.

Adults not previously mentioned but very much a part of the two evening ceremonies were Mrs. Ann Feltman, Mrs. Linda Watson, Mrs. Janet Oliver, Mrs. Margaret Bergeson, Mrs. Lois Krafve, Mrs. Barbara Gillingham, Mrs. Joan Ryan, Mrs. Sue Pieknik, Mrs. Peggy Sumner and Mrs. Clea Luebke.

Moose Lodge installs seven new members

Belleville Lodge No. 934 of the Loyal Order of Moose held an enrollment ceremony Sept. 25 at the Moose Home with the following seven newcomers welcomed: Don Detar, Thomas Fesko, Jerry Gray, William Greca, Walter Hill, Ken Shelson and Dwight Watson. Ken Shelson, was class representative.

The ritualistic work was put on by Dearborn Heights and Livonia ritual teams including Governor John Hiner of Dearborn Heights; Past Governor Merel Good of Livonia; Junior Governor Harlis Bates of Livonia; Orator Bill Marsh, Sergeant-at-arms Al Haykus and Prelate Lorne Lamming, all of Dearborn Heights.

Dinner served by the Women of the Moose was followed by dancing to the music of The Blended Touch.

The next enrollment will be held Oct. 16 at 8 p.m. at the Moose Home.

Membership meetings are held at 7 p.m. the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at the Moose Home.

Now a past-president

Bill Matthews, who was at the helm of the Belleville Kiwanis Club for the past year, relinquished his office during ceremonies Sept. 28 at North Junior High School. During the brief program which preceded the official installation, he was presented his past-president's pin from the group. His wife, Sharon, had the honor of pinning the emblem in his lapel.

Dental auxiliary sets style show at Barton Hills

Barton Hills Country Club will be the setting for the annual style show to benefit the Washtenaw Children's Dental Clinic. Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Washtenaw District Dental Society, the show will be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 14.

Jacobson's will provide the fashions and Lucy Dobson of Radio Station WPAG will do the commentary. King's Keyboard House of Ann Arbor will provide the organ for musical background. Dessert will be served prior to the show, and door prizes will be given. Models will be members of the auxiliary and their children.

Proceeds from the show are the only means of support for the Children's Dental Clinic which was founded in 1952 and presently is located at Mack School in Ann Arbor. County dentists volunteer their time to treat needy elementary school children who are referred by their school nurses.

Members of the Washtenaw Dental Hygienist Association also do volunteer work at the clinic. The Women's Auxiliary provides funds for one dental assistant as well as equipment and supplies. Children treated at the clinic pay nominal fees to help defray the cost of supplies.

Tickets at $3.50, which are tax deductible, may be obtained from auxiliary members and at the door.

The 86th installation of officers of Belleville Assembly No. 49, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was held at the Masonic Temple Sept. 25.

The Worthy Matron of Belleville Chapter No. 73, Order Eastern Star, Lenore Gaddy, gave the address of welcome.

The following installing officers were introduced: Retiring Worthy Advisor, Pamela Clark; Chaplain, Reia Clark; Marshal, Susan Carey; installing officers, Darlene Feitel, Debbie McKnight, Denise Welt; Prompter, Kathy Griess; Recorder, Pamela Bankert; Soloist, Margo Nowak and musician, Sue Sotomayer.

Also introduced were members of the Advisory Board: Mother Advisor, Rose Welt; chairman of the board, Juanita Akers; advisor to the recorder, Connie Guback; advisor to the treasurer, Frances McAtee; chairman of the arc, Donna Collins; Worthy Matron, Lenore Gaddy; Worthy Patron, Vincent Goodnuff; Elda Bohl, Ruth McAtee, Jeanne Clark, Anita Nicholson, Linda Clayton, Roberta Pond, Walter James and Robert Welt.

Officers installed were: Worthy Advisor, Roberta Sue Welt; Worthy Associate Advisor, Sylvia Carey; Charity, Gloria Girard; Hope, Kim Alspaugh; Faith LaVerna Arnett; Recorder, Pamela Bankert; Chaplain, Elizabeth Grubel; Drill Leader, Susan Carey; Love, Deborah Smendra; Religion, Debbie

Craycraft; Nature, Pamela Clark; Immortality, Norma McDonald; Fidelity, Sandy Hillon; Patriotism, Rhoda Mayfield; Service, Denise Welt; Confidential Observer, Janice Williams; Outer Observer, Kathy Griess, and Hostess, Debbie Claxton.

Mother Advisor Welt presented the jewel to the retiring worthy advisor, the Bible to the New Worthy Advisor and merit bars to several members.

WOTM sets busy pace

Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter No. 1135, held its business meeting Sept. 27 during which Patricia Loreske was installed as library chairman.

Refreshments were served after adjournment and Annabelle Sobolewski won the dark horse.

Francine Carter was installed as Mooseheart chairman on Sept. 20.

A Friendship meeting will be held at the home of Genevieve and Sandra Groves, 13660 Martinsville Road, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. A College of Regents meeting will be held at the home of Martha Morton, 898 Sumpter Road, Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Get well wishes were sent to Jeanette Wargo who recently underwent surgery and to co-worker June Sanders' mother, Georgia Jamnick, who is a patient at St. Joseph Hospital.

Congratulations went to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy (Diane) Schmeltz on the birth of their 5 lb. 7 oz. daughter, Brigett Carman, on Sept. 14, and to the proud grandmothers, Marcella Schmeltz and Helen Matewicz.

The mid-year convention will be held in Wyandotte on Oct. 22, 23 and 24. The highlight of this meeting for Belleville Chapter will be Frances Elliott receiving her Green Cap on Oct. 24, denoting her successful year as Senior Regent and leading the chapter to the Award of Achievement. All co-workers are urged to attend this meeting. Mooseheart chapter night will be held Oct. 11 at 8 p.m. Remember this is also Christmas in October, so be sure to bring your gifts for Mooseheart as listed in the newsletter.

Enrollment will be held in honor of Mooseheart Chairman, Francine Carter. Co-workers are urged to get behind their chapter and make this the best year ever.

YWCA to hold class for teens

The YWCA of Western Wayne County announced that a class in teen driver's training will start on Oct. 11.

The course will consist of 36 hours of classroom, plus six hours on-the-road-behind-the-wheel experience. The course is taught by state certified instructors and, upon successful completion, each student is awarded his certificate which is needed to obtain a license before the age of 18. The Oct. 11 class will meet every Mon., Tues., Weds., Thurs. for 4 weeks. For additional information, call the Ywca at 561-4110.

ABWA puts stress on election year

With focus on America's presidential election year, the Huron Valley Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) held its "campaign caper" Sept. 16 at the Tin Lizzie in Belleville.

ABWA enrollment events are held semi-annually to introduce the association and the local chapter to business women in the area.

Enrollment chairman, Patricia Baughman, introduced Bunny

Hardy and Willene Taylor in a skit depicting the election process and women's right to vote. The program stressed the many benefits of becoming a member of the ABWA and its purpose of providing a wide selection of scholarships for local students.

The seven new members enrolled at the tea were Dorothy L. King, Lois A. Leonard, Mary Susan DeDallo, Mary Frances Plummer, Jacquelyn Reuben, Joan M. Jan-sheski and Mary Braden.

Book Club visits museum

The Wayne County Retired Teachers' Book Club met Sept. 25 for lunch at Nickerson's in Belleville. Twenty were present including three new members: Marion Livingstone, Audrey McKee and Sybil Wilkinson.

Miss Doris Millman, a former librarian in the Dearborn Public Schools and now a member of the governing board of the Ypsilanti Historical Museum, was a guest. After lunch she directed an interesting tour of the museum which is housed in a dwelling at 220 Huron Street which had been built in 1860. She said that admission is free and open to the public on Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Gibeau family celebrates mother's 100th birthday

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021
On Sept. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibeau of Harmony Lane, were among members of the Gibeau family who gathered at the Dearborn Inn to honor their mother, Mrs. Emma Gibeau of Dearborn, on her 100th birthday. The 6 p.m. dinner, which was hosted by her daughter, Etta Symonds, and two sons, Ralph and Charles Gibeau and their spouses, was attended by 60 relatives and friends, including five grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The following day, Sept. 25, her real birth date, she was guest of honor at a luncheon at the Waterman Avenue United Methodist Church where she has been a member for many years.

Mrs. Bryan Burke and son, Matthew, returned to their home at Newberry Thursday after having spent the past several weeks with Mrs. Burke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brewster of Ecorse Road.

Dinner guests recently at Karr Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Luper were the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Logan of Lakeville, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of Colon were Monday callers at the home of the former's brother and wife, the Norman Millers of Second Street.

Mrs. George Maki, daughter Linda, and houseguest, Magaly Campos of Los Angeles, Chile, spent several days recently with Mrs. Maki's mother, Mrs. Fay Domenget and other relatives at Des Plaines, Ill. They called on friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lofstrom, at Lake Bluff, Ill. as well.

Mrs. Elda Bohl of Robson Road and Mrs. Nellie VanWormer of Juniper Drive recently returned from Tennessee where they spent several days with former Belleville Road residents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Woods at Manchester. While there the foursome drove to Fairfield Glade where they spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Oakley, one-time Ecorse Road residents.

Last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane enjoyed the Algoma Railway train trip through the Canadian Agama Canyon and were overnight guests of their son, Larry, at Paradise.

Mrs. Hazel Bryan of Wabash Street has returned home after having spent the past three weeks with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Kuehne at Bryan, Ohio, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson at Montpelier, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quinley of Sumpter Road spent the weekend at Mecosta.

Relatives who attended funeral services for William F. Damske of Dearborn at St. John's Lutheran Church on Sept. 27, were Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty Street, Mrs. Glenn Amrhein of Belleville Road, and Mrs. A.H. Amrhein and son, Howard, of Ypsilanti Township. Mr. Damske, who was 86-years-old, passed away Sept. 23 following a lengthy illness. Burial was at Glen Eden Cemetery. He was well known in this community by the older residents.

Congress passes appropriations bill

Rep. Ford helps push for veto override

...the bill contained 'the entire federal budget for people programs, programs to provide things like jobs...'

Michigan's 15th District congressman last week played a leading role in a successful fight by Congress to override the presidential veto of the $56.5 billion appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

The House overrode President Gerald Ford's veto in a 312-93 vote, while the Senate followed suit, voting 68-17 to override.

In the House debate prior to the override vote, Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) urged his colleagues to rebuff the President, pointing out that the bill contained the "entire federal budget for people programs, programs to provide things like jobs, education and health protection."

According to the congressman, the areas cut from the budget if the veto had stood, would have been $475 million for jobs and job training, $222 million for elementary and secondary education, $386 million for special aid to hard-pressed school district, $155 million for mental health programs, $110 million for maternal and child health research, $76 million in federal aid to nursing schools, $75 million for cancer research, $75 million for programs for the aged, $27 million for vocational rehabilitation for the handicapped, $49 million for library services and construction, $27 million for research on heart, lung and blood diseases, $25 million for the Head Start Program and $9.5 million for land-grant colleges.

"These are just some of the programs which would have to be cut back if we followed the President's 'Robin Hood in reverse' approach to federal spending priorities," Rep. Ford told his colleagues.

In the State of Michigan the veto override will mean some $4,331,000 in addition educational funds, including money for libraries, education for the handicapped, vocational education and adult education.

"I do not think the American people can afford more to spend than they are now for health care," Ford continued, saying that loss of such money would have meant higher local taxes, higher doctor bills and delayed research into major diseases. "I do not think they are ready for the tremendous increase in property taxes which would be necessitated by the President's proposed decreases in our education budget.

"I do not think the American people want to make cutbacks in research efforts to find cures for cancer and heart and lung disease."

"And finally, I do not know of anyone in my congressional district who wants the federal government to cut back its efforts to provide employment opportunities and job training programs for the millions of Americans who have lost their jobs since the Nixon-Ford administration took over the reins of our government."

The override marked the ninth time the House has voted this year to block a Presidential veto, breaking a record set in 1967, when the House overrode seven vetoes.

CAP drillers face nationals: Win regional drill contest

The Wayne-Romulus Constellation Drill Team is gearing up for national competition, scheduled for December in Alabama, after taking honors at a regional drill meet in Dayton, Ohio.

The team came away with a first-place trophy after competing at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Labor Day weekend.

In taking honors, the team took first place from a regional champion drill team from Ohio.

The team offered special thanks to Romulus Barbers "Ernie and Phil" for their donations to the drilling effort.

Owen went on to say that it would "seem that the federal government, if burdened with the entire cost of long-term welfare recipients, might provide economic incentives for recipients to relocate to an area where jobs are more plentiful and their financial future more bright."

The state representative added that the purpose of the resolution is to at least inform the Michigan congressional caucus that the Legislature, reflecting the people's thoughts, is demanding some type of financial relief be given to the overburdened state government.

Owen pointed out that the resolution could not be acted on until after the election, but certainly would be a good message for the new Congress.

Students net honor, member of play's cast

One student in the Belleville - Romulus community has been honored for his academic efforts at the collegiate level, while another was a member of the cast of a Kalamazoo college theatrical production.

Matthew G. Kuzel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuzel of Belleville, has been named to the dean's list for academic excellence for the spring term while in his freshman year at Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, N.J. Kuzel is a graduate of Belleville High School.

And Stephan Kertesz of Vining Road, Romulus, was a cast member of the Western Michigan University production of "Blood Wedding", staged this week in the college's Shaw Theatre. Kertesz is a graduate student at the college.

County to help seniors with home repairs

Seeks donations of tools and materials

The Wayne County Office on Aging needs new and used tools to help low-income senior citizens with necessary home repair projects.

An appeal is being made by county officials to businesses, community leaders, junior chambers of commerce and concerned citizens to donate a wide variety of tools, equipment and building supplies to be used in a county-wide home repair program for the elderly.

"Many seniors, living alone on limited incomes, are unable to fix leaky roofs, dangerous steps, broken windows and other household maintenance problems," said John Barr, chairman of the Board of Commissioners. "They simply don't have the strength, skills or money to keep their homes from deteriorating."

The Wayne County Office on Aging is attempting to meet that need. Although its application for federal funding was denied due to a shortage of funds, the office hopes to establish a program, primarily through volunteer help and private contributions.

Barr added that a report, issued by the Detroit-Wayne County Area

Agency on Aging, said the second most serious problem cited by seniors who voiced their opinions at recent public hearings was their difficulty in making home repairs.

"We have decided this program is too valuable to put on the shelf until we can get federal funds to buy tools and supplies," Barr emphasized. "So, we're appealing to the community to give us a hand."

"We need all types of tools — hammers, saws, drills, caulking guns, glass cutters, pliers, wrenches, ladders, electrical, plumbing and glazing equipment. We need hundreds of tools to be able to perform all types of minor repair work. We welcome large and small donations."

In addition to the tools, Barr said the county is seeking donations of building materials such as lumber, paint, plaster and cement.

Businessmen or private individuals who would like to make a donation to the project can contact the Wayne County Office on Aging at 224-0954.

Barr said donations are tax deductible and that the county also would provide free pickup service for donors.

The county will follow federal guidelines in determining who is eligible for the free home repair service, according to Dante DiVitto, director of the Office of Aging.

Seniors, 60 years old and up, who are homeowners and have limited incomes up to $3,500 per year, would be eligible, he said. There are 360,000 seniors living in Wayne County.

Barr said plans are underway to establish a "home repair service" headquarters in J Building on the grounds of Wayne County General Hospital in Westland.

DiVitto said the Office on Aging hopes to hire six to 10 retired handymen or craftsmen under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) on a 20-hour per week basis at $2.30 per hour. These would be senior citizens who earn less than $3,600 annually.

"But the need is so great, we also are appealing to citizens to volunteer their services for carpentry, plumbing, electrical, roofing, plastering, cement work and glazing jobs," DiVitto added. "Volunteers could choose their own hours and location for home repair assignments."

DeVitto said the part-time workers would be expected to make repairs at approximately 200 homes each month.

Typical repairs would include rotted porches, floorboards, bannisters and steps, leaky faucets, toilets and washing facilities, faulty wiring or heating systems and cooking facilities.

Barr said he hoped the community would respond positively to this request so that hundreds of seniors now living in homes that lack even basic safety and health standards could receive the help they need.

For further information call the Office on Aging at 224-0954.

Van Buren repeats service; Offers free tree chipping

Van Buren Township once again will embark on its tree chipping service, offered to citizens at no extra cost.

Persons interested in obtaining free chipping service are asked to contact the Van Buren Township Hall at 699-2001 starting today for the pickups scheduled for between Oct. 12 and 29 throughout the township.

As in the past, the service is offered to township residents as part of their tax payments to township government. Nothing extra will be charged to residents for the service as is done in other communities.

Township equipment can only accommodate limbs of less than 2½ inches in diameter, and cannot handle either trunks or stumps from removal of trees. Residents are asked to make other arrangements for disposing of large limbs, trunks and stumps.

This year, residents can keep their own chips for a winter mulch, providing they make arrangements with township workers at the time of making an appointment.

Counterpoint shelter plans official opening ceremony

The Counterpoint shelter for runaway teen-agers in Western Wayne County, located at 715 Inkster Road, Inkster, will open officially next Wednesday, with a ribbon cutting and open house.

John Barr, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, will officiate and be the featured speaker at the opening ceremony at 12 p.m. The open house will continue until 8 p.m.

The facility provides shelter and food for runaway youngsters between the ages of 12 and 17, plus guidance and counseling for them and their families.

It serves 32 communities west of Detroit — an area in which approximately 2,000 youngsters per year run away from home.

The Counterpoint runaway shelter is funded by a federal grant with the county providing federally-funded personnel assistance. The program also is assisted by the Michigan Department of Social Service.

In addition to services available at the shelter, the program will provide qualified speakers to groups and schools on the subjects of runaway prevention and care.

Information on the Counterpoint runaway shelter and its services is available by calling 563-5005.

In 1836, Texans wanted more than tacos from Mexico. They wanted their independence.
And they got it.
But once a republic, the next step was statehood. So the American government issued a five-percent stock to help pay for the annexation. And the citizens welcomed their new neighbors by quickly buying up the stock.
Today, Americans still help their country grow by buying United States Savings Bonds—at banks and through the Payroll Savings Plan at work.
And while they help their country, they help themselves to safe, dependable savings.
Take stock in America with United States Savings Bonds.
You just can't buy a better country.

"About 19 of every 20 new accounts come to us through the Yellow Pages. We know of no better testimonial than that."

Through the years, we've discovered what many businessmen no doubt already know...that the Yellow Pages is the best kind of advertising for anyone who cannot spend millions of dollars establishing themselves as a household name."—Harold L. Kurzmann, Harold Paper Company, Adams Rd., Auburn Heights.

Other Yellow Pages Advertisers are getting these results:

"85% of my custom pillow business is a direct result of my Yellow Pages advertising."

The Yellow Pages is fantastic. It's one thing to have a rare and respected craft, but you can't sit back and wait for the money to roll in. The Yellow Pages keeps the customers coming."—Herman Berlin, Pillow Talk, Coolidge Rd., Berkley.

"It has become almost an eight-hour-a-day job for one person to answer all the telephone calls we get. The Yellow Pages is the only medium which has worked for us consistently." I could not put a salesman on the road for the relatively small amount I spend on two large display ads in both the Woodward North and East suburban Detroit directories. Almost all our business comes in over the telephone. We no longer use any other media."—James J. Saad, Quick Made Trophies, E. Nine Mile Rd., Warren.

"At least 50% of our business, and probably more, comes from our Yellow Pages ads. Quite frankly, we could not survive without them."

People with flooded basements decide they can no longer put off the inevitable and that something must be done immediately. What do they do? Go to the Yellow Pages and call for help."—Lawrence M. Sinuk, World Wide Waterproofing, Telegraph Rd., Southfield.

Antiques forum will cover 1789-1837

Some of the nation's outstanding authorities on American antiques will make up the roster of speakers for the 17th annual Midwest Antiques Forum at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn Oct. 18-22.

The forum's theme this year will be "Collecting Americana: The Decorative Arts in the New Republic, 1789-1837." Illustrated lectures, teas, group discussions and special curatorial tours of the museum will focus on the period immediately following the American Revolution, with special attention given to such diverse areas as architecture, furniture, fashion, ceramics and glass.

Among those who will address themselves to the theme during the week-long forum will be museum curators, authors, university professors and antiquarians.

Alan Gowans, professor and chairman of the Department of History in Art at the University of Victoria, B.C., Canada, will set the tone of the forum on Oct. 18 with his keynote discussion of "Politics in Three Dimensions, Social Functions in Architecture and Arts, 1790-1840."

Others participating in the forum will be E. McClung Flemming, a research associate at Winterhunter Museum; Edward V. Jones an architect and consultant to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the U.S. Department of State and the White House; Stuart Field, director of the American Department of New York City's Hirsch and Adler Galleries, and Sister R. Mildred Barker of the United Society of

Entertainment

Shakers of Sabbath Day Lake, Maine.

Other speakers at the 1976 Midwest Antiques Forum will include Ernest P. Dodge, director of the Peabody Museum of Salem, Mass.; Elizabeth Jachimowicz, curator of costume of the Chicago Historical Society; and Cora Ginsburg, collector, lecturer and dealer from New York City.

The forum will close on Oct. 22, with a banquet and address by Harold Peterson, chief curator of the National Park Service at Harpers Ferry, W. Va. He will speak on "Raising Early American Spirits".

In addition to the lectures, forum participants will have an opportunity to view the museum's special Bicentennial exhibition, "The Struggle and the Glory". Based on a previously unpublished collection of Revolutionary period diaries, cartoons, letters, maps and broadsides, the exhibits features lamps, dry goods, cookware, transportation devices and other material necessities that depict life in the Colonies in the years surrounding the Revolutionary War.

Also included in the week-long forum program is a tour of the Cranbrook Academy of Art and a performance of Baroque music.

For registration forms and additional information about the program, accommodations and fees, write the Midwest Antiques Forum, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn 48121, or call 271-1620, ext. 385.

Comedy to open season

George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Man and Superman", will usher in the Meadow Brook Theatre's 11th season at the Oakland University campus in Rochester tomorrow evening.

The comedy of the eternal struggle between male and female, will open for a 4-week run tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The action travels from London to the sunny gardens of Spain and the rollicking romantic chase by a beautiful, reckless young woman to get her man serves as the background for one of Shaw's wittiest plays, a theatre spokesman said.

Returning to Meadow Brook to appear in the play will be Elisabeth Orion, Fred Thompson, Donald C. Moore, Harry Ellerbe, Cheryl Giannini, William Halliday and Mary Benson.

Opening week performances of "Man and Superman" will be at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 2 p.m. Saturday and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. The following three weeks will have performances at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 6 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Tickets for the play are available at the theatre box office or by calling 377-3300.

Season opener

Harper Jane McAdo (left) and Michael Rothnar will bring to life the roles of the matchmaker Frosine and Harpagon respectively in the Hilberry Theatre production of Moliere's "The Miser". The play will open at the Wayne State University graduate theater on Oct. 15. For ticket information contact the theater box office at 577-2972.

Ballet visits center

Patricia McBride and Jean-Pierre Bonnefous, principle dancers of the New York City Ballet, will headline a company of select dancers at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit Oct. 15-16.

The troupe's dance program will be all Balanchine for both evening performances, with a different program to be presented at the Oct. 16 matinee.

The evening program will include "Donizetti Variations", the pas de deux from "The Nutcracker", the "Ivesiana" pas de deux, "Gershwin's 'The Man I Love'" and Glinka's "Valse-Fantaisie."

Evening performances for "The Stars of the New York City Ballet" will be at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 15-16, with the matinee slated for 2 p.m. Oct. 16. Tickets for the three performances can be obtained by contacting the Music Hall at 963-7680 or by visiting its box office at 350 Madison at Brush in Detroit.

Autumn colors dress parks

This fall residents can explore the wonders of nature at the Nature Study Area of Oakwoods Metropark, located five miles northwest of Flat Rock. Both the Nature Study Area and nature trails at the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority recreational site are open year-round.

The Nature Center Building, overlooking the Huron River, features seasonal exhibits. Naturalists are on duty to answer questions or explain the special features to visitors. Hours for the building at 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends and from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Mornings on Monday through Friday are reserved for school groups during the school year.

Four nature trails from 700 feet to two miles in length are labeled for self-guided hikes. The trails are open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Persons visiting the nature study area are prohibited from collecting flowers, leaves, rocks and animals at the site. Family pets and picnicking also are prohibited in that area, however, a designated picnic site near the nature study area has been set up to accommodate school groups.

Special once-a-month guided nature hikes for the general public also are offered on specific dates. For further information on the Oakwoods Metropark call 782-1255 (Flat Rock).

New club officers

The Belleville Kiwanis Club held its annual installation of officers Sept. 28 at North Junior High School. Jim Richendollar (center) accepted the president's gavel for the ensuing year. His co-officers include (from left) Olin Wyman, treasurer; Frank Herr, fourth vice-president;

Jerry Graf, second vice-president; Bill Chizmar, first vice-president; Dave Larabell, third vice-president; and Jim Fitch, treasurer. A former club president and past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis District Nine, J. D. Clark, came from Brighton to act as installing officer.

Carter nets promotion

JAMES CARTER

A Romulus man has been promoted to the rank of private first class while stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., with the U.S. Marine Corps.

Pfc. James C. Carter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carter of Newcastle Street, Romulus, completed his Field Radio Operator Course while at the San Diego military installation.

A 1972 graduate of Romulus High School, Pfc. Carter, joined the Marine Corps in February 1976. His wife, Dolly, and son, Tony, have joined him in San Diego.

Also in the armed forces:

The son of a Belleville couple has been assigned to Castle Air Force Base, Calif., following graduation from the Weapons Control Systems Mechanic Course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

Airman Ray L. Colley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colley of 4055 Expressway, was trained in the maintenance and repair of aircraft weapons control systems and now will serve with a unit of the aerospace defense command.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School.

Pack 1071 conducts meeting

Cub Scout Pack 1071 recently held its first meeting of the year at the United Methodist Church of Belleville.

At the gathering a special thank you was extended to Don Markle, chairman, and the other parents who helped to make the pack's booth at the Wayne County 4-H Fair this past summer a "big success".

On tap for the elementary school-aged participants in the Scouting unit will be a paper drive from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. Saturday. Residents wishing to donate papers can call 697-8183 or 697-0898.

Awards given at the pack meeting went to Mike Fletcher, bear badge, and Webedo Steve Markle, athlete and outdoorsman badges.

Metroparks keep facilities open

Three metroparks in Western Wayne County have several facilities open for use during the fall season.

Metropark, a 1,200-acre winding parkway located near Belleville, has several picnic areas with shelters and comfort stations, playfields, play equipment at the tot lot, nature trails for self-guided hikes, shore fishing along the Huron River and an 18-hole

Par 3 golf course—open from 8 a.m. to dusk—are available for fall park visitors.

At the 1,500-acre Willow Metropark located between New Boston and Flat Rock, picnic areas with shelters and comfort stations, playfield, shore fishing along the Huron River and the special activities areas with two tennis courts and four basketball courts, as well as the "Town and Country" tot lot are open to the public during the fall. Those persons using the athletic courts must supply their own equipment.

And at the 1,711-acre Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock the nature interpretive area with a large nature center, seasonal exhibits and several trails, labelled for self-guided hikes, are available. The trails are open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, while the nature center is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

During the school year, mornings are reserved for school groups with advance appointments available by contacting the Nature Interpretive Program, care of the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 3050 Penobscot Building, Detroit 48226, or by calling 961-5865. Oakwoods Metropark also has several picnic areas with comfort stations and shore fishing along the Huron River available. No food services will be available at the metroparks, where hours are from daylight to 10 p.m.

'Hot 1 Baltimore' opens season

"Hot 1 Baltimore", Langford Wilson's multi-award winning play will open at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 21 in the Studio Theater, downstairs at the Hillberry Theatre, on the campus of Wayne State University (WSU) in Detroit.

Winner of the New York Drama Critics Award for the Best American Play of 1972-73, recipient of the Obie Award for Best Off-Broadway Play that season and of the Outer Critics Circle John Gassner Playwriting Award, "Hot 1 Baltimore" derives its name from the forlorn hotel marquee from which the E has fallen off and never has been replaced. Its inhabitants belong to the forgotten past when trains traveled on time and "every city in America used to be beautiful". Undaunted even by the walls coming down around them, they hold stubbornly to their dreams and hopes. Wilson parades his characters across the stage as they each learn that their home is to be torn down in a month's time.

Tickets for "Hot 1 Baltimore" are available at the WSU Theatre Box Office in the Hillberry Theatre lobby, located at Cass and Hancock, or by calling 577-2972.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

REGULAR BOARD MEETING, SEPTEMBER 28, 1976 Meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Supervisor Gollwitzer called the meeting to order at 7:30 P.M. Members present were Supervisor Gollwitzer, Clerk Cullin, Treasurer York and Trustees Kelly, Maton & Domen. Trustee Kureth was absent. Also present were Att'y. Phillips, Engineers Levine & Wilhelm, Sec'y. Soja and 21 interested citizens.

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to approve as presented the minutes of the September 14, 1976 regular meeting. CARRIED. Clerk Cullin read the correspondence from Mr. Paas asking the moratorium on rezoning on the N. Service Dr. corridor be lifted. Motion Cullin, support Kelly, to table and consider for more detail and specifics and send a letter to the Planning Commission asking for their recommendation. CARRIED. Motion Cullin, support Kelly, to table the request from the Township employees to change the working hours to 8 AM to 4:30 P.M. with 1/2 hr. for lunch. CARRIED. Kelly stated that should be referred to the union representative as the union contract now states working hours shall be 8 AM to 5 PM with 1 hour for lunch.

The letter from Van Buren Public Schools in regards to sewer hook up for the new school on Tyler Road was discussed. Township Engineers are to check to see if the residential sewer off Jackson St. is large enough and have their findings at the next meeting.

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to adopt the Subdivision Ordinance fee schedule as presented. CARRIED. Supervisor Gollwitzer reported that with all the legal research made by township attorneys our Police department is valid and operating legally, but the sheriffs department chooses not to dispatch our car. The Township attorney will have the written opinion ready for the next board meeting.

Motion Cullin, support York, to approve funding an additional $5,000. for study of Willow Run Airport. CARRIED. The Board pointed out that the "No Hunting" ban on Township owned property still stands until the board takes it off.

Motion Cullin, support York, to pay dues of $5.00 to Wayne County Chiefs Assoc. CARRIED. The capitol outlay report as presented by Supervisor Gollwitzer was discussed. Motion Kelly, support Domen, we purchase the ditching machine (that is presently being rented) for a price of $15,962. CARRIED.

Motion Cullin, support York, we advertise for bids on 2 new pump trucks for the fire department. CARRIED. Fire Chief Memering will get the specifications for the trucks.

Motion Kelly, support Domen, we advertise for bids on a new 3/4 T. Pickup for the Water Dept. CARRIED.

Motion Cullin, support Kelly we table the request of the Planning Commission for an indepth study of the N. Service Dr. corridor until we get a cost figure from the Planners. CARRIED.

Mr. Charles Paas spoke to the board about this rezoning request on the corridor and he also felt the study was not needed.

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to approve for payment the voucher lists as submitted. CARRIED.

Motion Cullin, support Kelly, to advertise for sale on bids 2 obsolete fire trucks at fire dept. No. 2 CARRIED.

Police Chief Willet asked if the Board could get more answers on our police department situation, also the board should be aware that 2 police cars have 60,000 miles on them and a new one should be considered. He reported that 5 men were attending police school funded by LEAA. More discussion on the police dept. was held. Fire Chief Memering asked if "No Parking" signs could be posted on the Ecorse S. Service Dr. by the fire station so as not to block the fire trucks.

Mr. DiDia reported the signal light at I-94 & Belleville Rd. should be installed near the end of October.

A citizen from the audience (Mr. Mamo) asked if all contractors working in the Township should be bonded and licensed. It was explained that in his case of his seawall being damaged the contractor should sign a Hold Harmless Agreement with the Township.

Motion Domen, support Cullin, to have the Board send a letter of thanks to our 2 certified policemen who carried us thru the period when Wayne Co. Sheriff refused to recognize our other policemen. CARRIED.

Supervisor Gollwitzer announced the drain court case would be held September 29 at 2:15 PM. City County Bidg.

Motion Kelly, support York, to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 9:10 P.M.

Respectfully submitted

'Barnes-storming'

Elusive Kevin Barnes (32) proved too much for Dearborn defenders as he cut his way to two touchdowns and 134 yards in 21 carries Friday night to lead the Tigers to a key victory over previously undefeated

Dearborn. The victory kept Coach Pat Stokes' gridders in a two-way tie for first place with undefeated Edsel Ford which knocked off defending champ, Trenton, last week.

Wayne harriers are undefeated

Erasing Fordson from its paths, Wayne Memorial took a giant step in reaching one of its goals for the 1976 season: winning the Great Lakes 8 Conference cross country championship.

Coach Doug Garrett's harriers dumped Fordson 22-34, then disposed of Monroe 23-32 to remain perfect in the league. Earlier in the season the Zebras beat Edsel Ford 27-30 and that was the score they got by arch-rival Westland John Glenn.

"We got off to a great start by defeating four strong teams," said Garrett who will be seeking to win a sectional title in the invitational Wayne will host on Saturday.

"Our goal this year is to be the best and we can't help but to look ahead to our invitational where we have a chance to meet a strong Garden City East team."

Rich Blaha, a junior, has been Wayne's No. 1 runner in the earlier part of the season, however, Kevin Miller has taken that role back as he won the Monroe meet.

Wayne also has a seasoned runner in Ron Mason and is getting excellent performances from the Quaintance brothers — Tim and Stan.

Wayne's back-up men include Tim Higgs, Pat Mazze, Dan Smelser and Frank Caudill while the sophomore team is made up of Dave Rose, a hard-working runner out of Franklin Junior High, Joe Aukee (Adams), Gary Dykes (Franklin) and Paul Spencer, Franklin's mile-run champ.

Churchill bows in league opener

Farmington Harrison took a dim view of Livonia Churchill's plans of repeating as the Western Six Conference football champ and handed Coach Ken Kaestner's Chargers a 21-6 setback in the league opener for both teams.

The Livonians are winless in three starts this season and the prospects are good that they may extend that losing streak as title-hopeful Northville is next for the Chargers.

"Northville is a powerful team," said Kaestner. "We'd just love to upset them but, realistically, everything would have to go our way in order for us to win."

Churchill caught Harrison by surprise in the first quarter and got on the board when Charles Watson broke loose off tackle and raced 62 yards for a touchdown. That play was pulled off on the Chargers second try from scrimmage.

However, Harrison came back with a 70-yard, 12 play march that ended early in the second quarter when it took over the lead 7-6.

Harrison picked up a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter to ice it.

"Though our offense was better in spots and the defense was aggressive," explained Kaestner, "we made critical mistakes - no football team can afford to make them and expect to win."

Watson had an excellent day, rushing for more than 100 yards on nine carries. Linebacker Tim Curran keyed Churchill's defense.

Salem cage star transfers to U of D

Eric Agardy, former Plymouth Salem cage star, will be wearing a University of Detroit basketball uniform this season, according to Titan head coach Dick Vitale.

Agardy, a 6-10 center, has enrolled at U-D this fall and will sit out one year of competition as required by NCAA rules. He will be ineligible at the start of the 1977-78 season and will have three years eligibility remaining.

A highly sought-after prep star, Agardy led Salem to the 1975 state semi-finals. He comes to U-D from North Carolina State where he saw limited action as a freshman but was on the team's traveling squad. Agardy participated in the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference tournament and also in the National Invitational Tournament (NIT).

At Plymouth Salem, Agardy averaged 21 points a game for Coach Fred Thomann. Salem was defeated by Flint Northwestern in the 1975 tournament.

Eric is majoring in chemistry. "It's good to be back home where people care about you," Agardy said. "I'm really looking forward to joining the U-D program and Coach Vitale."

Belleville wins 'big one'

Tigers detour Dearborn in overtime, 26-23

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Belleville served notice Friday night before a home crowd that it is a legitimate contender for the Suburban 8 Conference football championship.

The notice came in the way of a 26-23 victory over previously undefeated Dearborn. The victory provided Coach Pat Stokes' Tigers with a 2-0 conference and a 2-1 overall record on the season.

Belleville will head for Allen Park Friday night to take on the Jaguars, a team that is seeking its first win. But, Stokes warns, don't let Allen Park's record deceive you.

"In both of their league games, they (Allen Park) have been right in the thick of the battle. Don't think they are totally helpless," said Stokes.

In that dramatic overtime victory over Dearborn, Belleville won the toss in the extra period and elected to go on defense first. The visiting Pioneers tried a running play that earned for them two yards, then attempted two passes which fell short of their mark.

Dearborn called out kicker Norm Lockwood who then connected on a 28-yard field goal, giving the Pioneers a 23-20 edge.

Belleville settled the issue on the first play when quarterback Tom Laine quick-pitched to running back Calvin Patterson who raced into the end zone for the decisive touchdown. Senior Dave Montalbo's block provided Patterson with the clear path across the goal line.

The touchdown climaxed an uphill battle for Belleville which trailed at the end of the first quarter, 14-0, and at half-time 14-12. Dearborn also enjoyed a 20-12 edge on its hosts before the Tigers tied it up with six minutes left in the regulation period.

"It was a deceiving sort of game," Stokes related. "We played well on defense but gave them two easy and quick touchdowns in the first 12 minutes."

Dearborn's first touchdown was set up by a Tiger turnover. The Pioneers kicked off to Belleville which started its first series on its own 10-yard line. After Kevin Barnes and Patterson worked their way to the 20-yard line, a bad pitch wound up in Dearborn's possession.

Two plays later Chuck Baughman dove over from the three-yard line to put the Pioneers on the board. Lockwood's extra point kick made it a 7-0 ball game.

Four minutes later Dearborn scored again, again Baughman going in from the three and Lockwood kicking the point after.

Belleville did an about-turn the second quarter and came within two-points of tying the game. Taking over on the Dearborn 40-yard line after a bad punt, the Tigers put their ground game into motion thanks to the 1-2 combination of Barnes and Patterson who alternated in carrying the ball to the three-yard line where Barnes crashed over for the first TD.

However, Belleville failed to cash in on that PAT and trailed 14-6.

Belleville's defense, fired up by Roy Rutherford who had four sacks of the quarterback and a pass interception, stopped Dearborn again deep in Pioneer territory.

Dearborn got off a kick to its 41-yard line and the Tigers took over with five minutes left in the half. Patterson triggered the second touchdown with a 12-run but it was Laine who scored on a quarterback sneak to give the Tigers their second six-pointer.

The visitors came within striking distance after the ensuing kickoff and worked to the Belleville 18-yard line before Patterson ended the threat when he picked off a misguided aerial at his own four-yard line.

Dearborn controlled the third quarter and made it to the Belleville three-yard line in one series before Rutherford claimed his interception. Prior to that drive, Jeff Goines stopped the Pioneers at the Tiger 20-yard line when he recovered a fumble.

The visitors got some breathing room early in the fourth quarter with Eric Tarpinian's 10-yard run, set up by a Belleville miscue at the Tiger 40.

Bruce Gielinski blocked what proved to be an important extra point attempt.

With eight minutes remaining in the game, Dearborn kicked off and Rich Dapsi returned the ball to the Belleville 37. The Tigers moved to the 49-yard line where Laine's pitch-out to Barnes provided Belleville with its third TD of the game. Barnes went on his way thanks to a block provided by Jeff Bramble.

Laine then used the option to go into the endzone for the two-point conversion that tied the game.

"I'm proud at the way our boys stayed in there," said Stokes.

"Dearborn threw a new defense at us and our boys managed to make the adjustments."

Barnes, who added to more touchdowns in his record, rushed for 134 yards in 21 carries while Patterson, still a budding sophomore, picked up 102 yards in 22 tries and a TD.

Making his point to gridders Jim McCarty (at left) is Belleville's head coach Pat Stokes who has given the Tiger fans their first legitimate title contender in the Suburban 8 Conference in recent years. Belleville will take a 2-0 league record up against Allen Park Friday night.

State champ tramples hapless Thurston, 40-15

The rumor that Livonia Franklin, the defending Class A state football and Northwest Suburban Conference football champs, is dead has been greatly exaggerated.

Redford Township Thurston discovered that fact on Saturday. Franklin opened up the defense of its conference title with a overwhelming 40-15 victory over Thurston, a team that had given Coach Armend Vigna's Patriots considerable problems in the past.

"Our defense played well and made the game easy," Vigna said as he prepared to take on North Farmington. North upset highly-regarded Bloomfield Hills Lahser in its latest outing.

"Lahser was ranked in the state until its recent loss," Vigna noted, "so you know that North is a fine team. It will be a tough game and we're going to have to improve to win."

Franklin struck for a touchdown in the first quarter against Thurston.

built up a 20-0 halftime margin and stayed out in front 27-0 in the third period as Vigna gave his reserves ample playing time.

Gordon Wheeler accounted for two of Franklin's touchdowns as he intercepted a pair of passes and turned them into 25 and 60 yard TD runs. Teammate Phil Yuhasz also scored twice, returning a punt 35 yards into the end zone and running 16 yards on a draw play for his second score.

Franklin also got on the scoreboard when Dennis Smith intercepted a pitchout that he carried back 35 yards for a touchdown. Dave Bowen's nine-yard TD sprint rounded out the Patriots' scoring.

Mike Fry kicked three of the extra points.

Franklin's "front four" defensive ends Rich Kruger and Al Anconea teamed with tackles Mark Wenzel and Al Stokfisz to shut off Thurston's ground game for three quarters.

Romulus is no match for Jackson Northwest

Mired deep in its own territory for most of the game, Romulus learned it was no match for Jackson Northwest which frustrated Coach Tom Baldwin's Eagles 20-0 last week.

Morrison catching WSU greats

Junior split end Dean Morrison, a Westland and Livonia Franklin football product, continues to climb the Wayne State career receiving charts.

With 12 catches, for 206 yards, a 17.2 yards average this season, Morrison is now second in career yards with 902 and third in career catches with 46.

Ahead on the yardage list is Terry Fuller, Detroit-Denby who had 968 yards (1969-71). Fuller with 67 catches and John Johnston with 66 grabs in 1950-52 are ahead on the catches table.

Canton shutout by Mott

More than 100 yards in penalties came back to haunt Plymouth Canton as Coach Dave Schuele's Chiefs were shut out in their Western Six Conference football opener 27-0 by title-hopeful Waterford Mott.

Canton managed to mobilize only one serious scoring threat in the game, reaching the Mott 10-yard line before an infraction tossed them back and out of striking distance.

"We had a couple of defensive letdowns," Schuele said. "And penalties — we had 105-yards of them — really hurt us."

Mott scored a touchdown in each quarter en route to their third win of the season.

Canton's leading rusher, Jerry Simon, picked up 38 of the 58 the Chiefs earned from their ground game. Canton had 107-yards total.

It won't be any easier for Schuele and his Chiefs this week as they entertain Farmington Harrison which claimed a convincing 21-6 victory over Livonia Churchill, the defending league champ, last week. "Farmington looks awesome," said Schuele. "They're big and tough and we're going to go to the air in hopes of staying on the field with them."

Key victory

Glenn's title express rolls past GC East

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Posting its third shutout of the season, Westland John Glenn's title express picked up momentum Friday night as Coach Jerry Lutri's Rockets shot down title-pretender Garden City East 20-0 before the home crowd.

Glenn's defense has now held its last five opponents scoreless, a string it began on Oct. 31 1975 when the Rockets blanked Berkley 22-0.

The victory over East also was Lutri's introduction to the Northwest Suburban Conference.

"It's always great to win your league opener," Lutri said. "We have now gone 22 quarters without our rivals scoring on us."

Saturday, Glenn will meet Thurston, which was an easy victim for defending Class A state and conference champ, Livonia Franklin, last week.

"Thurston is always a potentially explosive team," Lutri commented. "No one takes them lightly and we surely aren't."

East held Glenn scoreless for the first 12 minutes of their confrontation, the Panthers having initial success with their offensive attack thanks to up-the-middle plunges by rugged fullback Bryan Gibbs.

In their first series of plays, East marched 58-yards to the Glenn 16 where Gibbs fumbled and Glenn's Dale Evans recovered at the 16-yard line. Jim Irwin's tackle jarred the ball loose from Gibbs' hands.

Quarterback Bill Lee put his running backs Jeff Preston, Mike Holton and Jerry Cook to work and 13 plays later the Westlanders were at the East 19-yard line where their threat dissipated when Ray Prosser intercepted Lee's pass in the end-zone.

Glenn broke the scoreless deadlock midway in the second quarter after an exchange of punts. The Westlanders took over on their own 33-yard line with 6:09 showing.

After Cook picked up three yards, Lee then teamed up with the junior slotback on a 13-yard pass completion. A broken play and an incomplete pass later, Lee caught East's defense down.

The junior Glenn quarterback pitched out to Irwin on a third down, 10 to go situation and Irwin singled out Mark Grabowski as his receiver and fired the ball over to him.

Grabowski cleared a couple of would-be East tacklers and scampered 48-yards for the go-ahead touchdown. He then booted the extra point to give Glenn a 7-0 cushion midway in the second quarter.

With 4:12 left to the half, East had the time to retaliate, however, the Panthers lost the ball on their third play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff.

Glenn's Cliff Williamson stole an East pass and made it to the Rocket 42-yard line before he was brought down.

Lee had 2:29 left to see what he could do. He concentrated his attack in the flank where Mark Sciborski caught two key passes that moved the Rockets to East's 22-yard line. Lee and Holton teamed for a seven-yard pass completion and, after Holton picked up four yards, Lee picked out a pass pattern which ended in a broken play and the Rocket quarterback scampering 11-yards for a touchdown.

Grabowski's kick for the point-after widened the Glenn lead to 14-0.

Midway in the final quarter, Cook culminated a 57-yard, 10-play sustained drive by diving over the goal line for the touchdown with 2:39 to spare.

Grabowski failed to make good on his last conversion of the evening. Preston generated nearly half of Glenn's offense as he rushed for 131 yards on 25-carries. Lee finished up with 35 yards on five tries, including that 11-yard TD sprint.

Rick Burns, who sacked East's QB twice for huge losses, led the Rocket defenders.

EMU's All-Area grid lineup

Horsemen finish endurance ride

Braving inclement weather and slippery trails were Romulus residents Charlotte McBride and Barbara Schultz; Denise McMillan of Lincoln Park and Debbie Ernest of Belleville as they competed in the 7th Annual Dixie Saddle Club 30 Mile Competitive Trail Ride.

This ride was held in Ortonville and the Hadley Hills Recreation Area.

The event is designed to test the endurance and skill of horse and rider.

Earning completion awards for the demanding event were Charlotte McBride mounted on the Arabian, Zizanie; Barbara Schultz mounted on the Appaloosa, Brandy Wine; Denise McMillan mounted on the Appaloosa, Diablo; and Debbie Ernest mounted on a purebred Arabian.

Paz' field goals jolt Monroe

Wayne does it again...wins in overtime

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

A sophist leaving the Wayne Memorial, Monroe football game Friday night was overheard to remark: "Tell Carter to tell his team that the game starts at 8 p.m."

The remark, of course, referred to the way Wayne has been waiting for the final minutes and the overtime periods to pull out their victories.

And Wayne did it again — frustrating Monroe 13-10 in an overtime period which preserved Wayne's three-game winning streak and kept the Wolfpack atop of the Great Lakes 8 Conference and the Region 2 playoff field.

"Like I have repeatedly said," remarked Floyd Carter, Wayne's head football coach, "these kids are not quitters. Some of the folks are saying that we're lucky."

"Maybe, but I don't think so," Carter continued. "I feel these boys refuse to quit and, believe me, they just come up with a team effort each time."

(Gee, coach, I can't see anything wrong with being lucky, too. You got to have some luck to win championships, don't you?)

Monroe had built up a 10-0 lead after two quarters and appeared well on its way to detouring Wayne's title express when Zebra quarterback Pat Bledsoe got things going late in the third quarter.

Bledsoe strung together a 73-yard, four-play drive that ended in a 26-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Smart with 31 seconds left in the quarter.

Mike Paz, a transfer student from Bishop Borgess, then supplied the point after and went on to frustrate Monroe with two successful field goals.

Paz' 26-yard field goal which culminated an 80-yard nine play drive tied the score in the fourth quarter with four minutes left.

After neither team managed to break the deadlock in regulation play, the issue was forced into an overtime. Wayne won the toss and elected to take defense.

The Trojans worked their way to the two-yard line where, on a third down and goal to go set-up, Wayne's Don Campbell intercepted to end the threat.

Bledsoe's first play was to use tailback Brett Hansen on an off-tackle play which found Monroe waiting for the speedy hurdler. Then, Bledsoe tried Smith on a pass which failed.

Hansen picked up two yards on the third play, then Carter decided to call upon Paz who was asked to make good on a 26-yard field goal. Paz came through, giving Wayne its second overtime victory of the young campaign.

Bledsoe, improving with each game, hit on five of 16 aerials for 110 yards, while Ed Leverenz did a superb job on defense as he counted 14 initial hits, nine assists, caused one fumble and deflected a pass which went as an interception to Roy Smith.

That interception in the end zone foiled a Monroe scoring threat in the second quarter.

Wayne will travel to Taylor Center Friday night for its third league test of the season. Taylor, Carter said,

"has always been a tough game for us."

"They (Center) have always caused us problems and are a better team than what their record (0-3) indicates," Carter noted. "Two of the teams Taylor has lost to were Monroe and Fordson, so they have been playing the best in the league."

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

By Gordon Charles

October is the magic month when Michigan archers go twanging around the colorful woodlands with their bows as they attempt to make connections via arrow with a deer.

It's a tough job that overwhelmingly favors the whitetails.

Statewide, it's a great season when three percent of the archers actually kill a deer. For gun hunters, the average is closer to 15 percent so the stick-and-string group is really working under a big handicap.

Among members of the Michigan Bow Hunters, however, the odds are a little different since they enjoy a success ratio of about 9.6 percent. At least, that's what it was during the 1975 season.

MBH president Rex Holbrook of Ann Arbor, who has kept careful records for his organization since it came into being in 1946, did some checking last season, too. He found out a lot of interesting things. Among the nearly 3,000 MBH members, for example, were a number who tried tree stands legally for the first time.

Michigan was one of the last states to give bowhunters the right to perch in trees to give themselves a little extra edge over their whitetailed adversaries. It was done among dire warnings from some that such a law would lead to the slaughter of deer. It didn't happen that way, which is what Holbrook had predicted.

Several bowhunters did manage to fall out of trees. One had just made himself comfortable on a limb when it broke and he crashed to the ground, injuring himself seriously. Another MBH member picked out a sturdier limb but got so comfortable that he fell asleep. You might say he just dropped off when he just dropped off. He was so relaxed, though, that the tumble didn't harm him too much but he did swear off sitting in trees from that time on.

Of the successful MBH members, 127 used elevated positions in trees while the other 152 hunted from the ground. The success ratio was only up .4 percent over the previous year, so tree hunting just is not that much more successful, Holbrook figures.

Tree stands seem to make a difference in sure kills, however. The average distance of a shot in 1975 was 18.8 yards, as compared to 22.6 yards the previous year. A hunter perched in a tree has practically no scent to warn a deer and the whitetail will approach much closer in many cases. This allows a better target before the arrow is loosed.

Deer shot with arrows from tree stands traveled an average of 103 yards before dropping dead. This was nearly 40 yards less than those deer shot at ground level. Besides, the tree hunter was able to see much better where his deer was headed, thus allowing quicker recovery.

Most MBH members prefer to bag bucks. Of the 286 successful hunters, 159 got bucks while 123 settled for does. They also bagged 3 bears, all in the Upper Peninsula. Deer came from 51 of Michigan's counties. Of the 36 deer taken in December, only two came from the U.P. so that destroys another myth that bowhunters can go into the yarding areas and slaughter whitetails that way.

Unbeaten Inkster stops Robichaud in 2 overtimes

What was supposed to be "a building year" for Inkster High and head football Coach Arnice James has suddenly exploded into an

14 teams eye Wayne CC titles

A field of 14 area high school teams, divided into two sections, has assembled for the running of the Wayne Memorial Cross Country Invitational.

The invitational will be held on Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. on the Wayne course, located adjacent to the school in the area popularly called "the flats."

Cherry Hill and Livonia Churchill are back in the fold to defend their respective sectional championships.

Seeking to unseat Coach Joe Grasley's harriers from Cherry Hill will be favorite, Garden City East, along with host, Wayne Memorial, Livonia Franklin, Belleville, Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Plymouth Canton.

Churchill is expected to get strong opposition from John Glenn, led by All-American trackster Ted Unold. Also in that section will be Dearborn Heights Crestwood and Robichaud, along with Garden City West, Romulus, and Trenton.

Upon completion of the varsity races, there will a reserve championship staged.

"I feel this is one of the finest fields ever gathered for the meet," said Bill Hawley, Wayne High's athletic director. "Not only do we have outstanding teams but some of the individuals are among the best in the state."

There will be trophies awarded to the winning individuals and teams. Also, ribbons will be presented to the first 20 finishers in each section as well as team ribbons to the first, second and third place teams.

Medals will go to those carding the top seven best times for the invitational.

auspicious season for the Vikings.

With Anthony Wilson scoring two touchdowns, one in a double overtime, Inkster edged arch-rivals, Dearborn Heights Robichaud 12-6 to begin the Suburban Athletic Conference phase of the season.

The victory was the third straight for James' boys who are undefeated on the season and will face out-of-the league for Willow Run Friday.

"The boys are playing their hearts out," said James. "They're doing a fine job - but, we still have a long way to go."

Robichaud's Bob Yauck complimented the way James prepared for the game. "He did a heck of a job against us and is doing a superb job with his teams," Yauck added.

Robichaud drew first blood as the Dearborn Heights gridders scored in the second quarter on quarterback Mercer Bryson's 10-yard sprint. The Bulldogs chose to go for the two-point conversion and Bryson fumbled, thwarting the conversion attempt.

Inkster didn't get the equalizer until the third period and it was Wilson who supplied the rushing power. He picked up an off-tackle 34-yard run to the Robichaud two, then three plays later dove in for the touchdown.

The Vikings also missed their point-after, setting the stage for the cliffhanger.

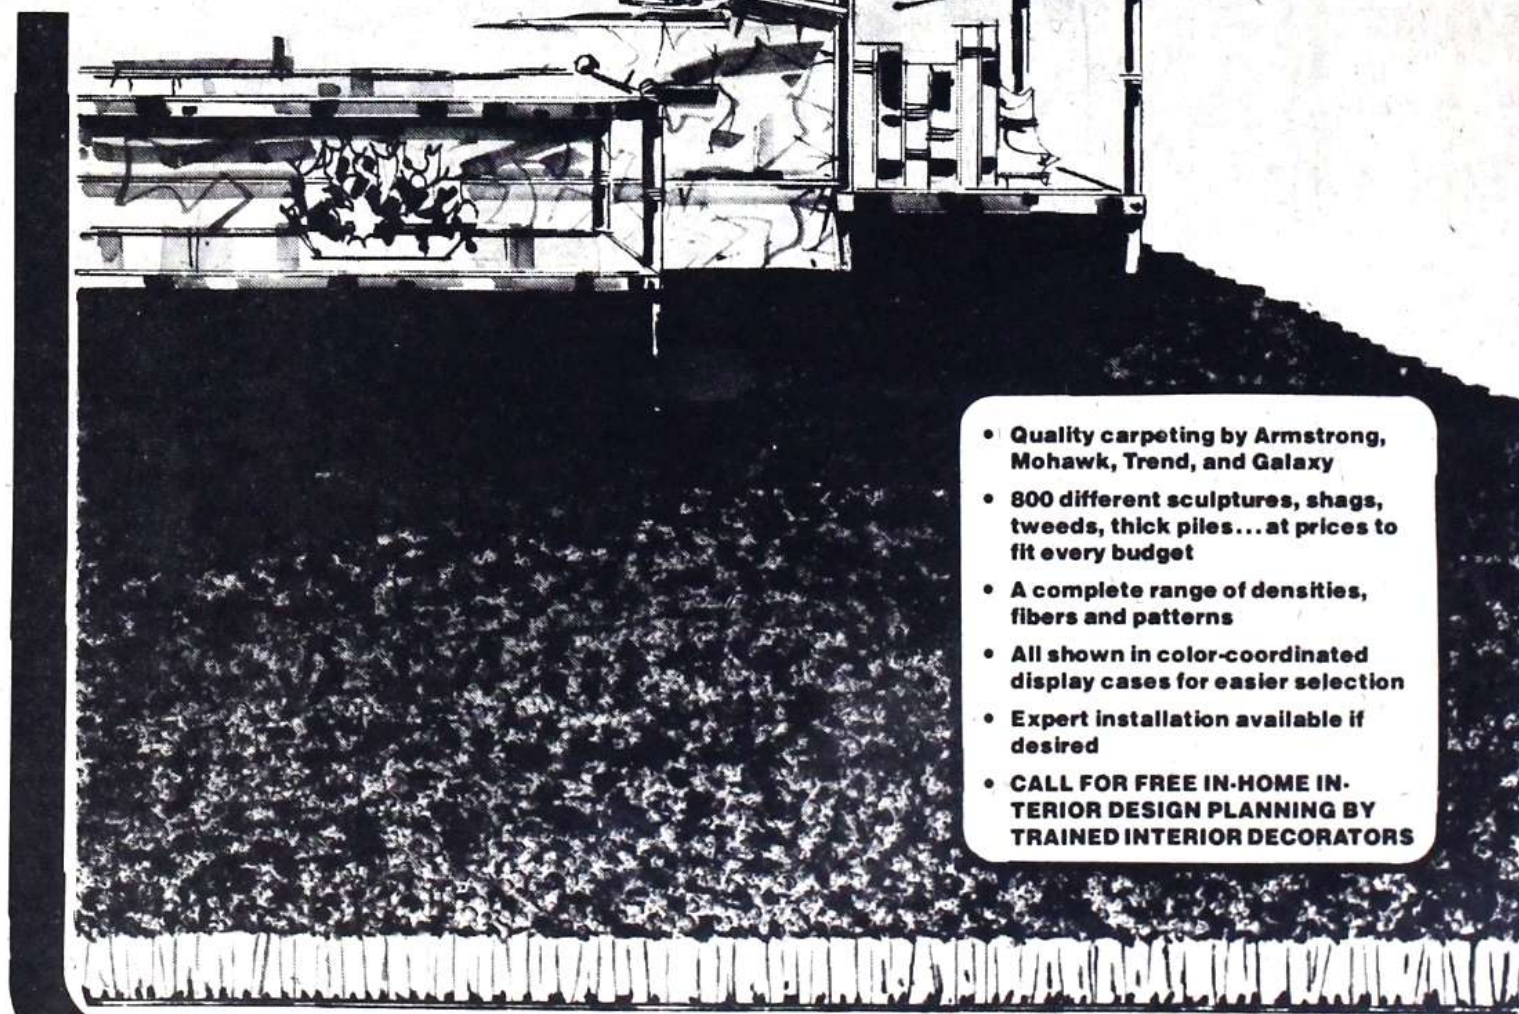

Inkster won the toss in the first overtime and selected to go on offense. The Vikings tried three unsuccessful plays, then went for a field goal which failed to find the uprights.

Robichaud replied with three plays that netted it two yards and they too attempted a field goal which was blocked.

In the second overtime, Wilson punched the ball over the goal line from two yards out, Robichaud tried to even it up via the air routes and all of its four pass patterns failed.

Wilson wound up the day with 123 yards rushing and two touchdowns.

Spartan bubble bursts

Cherry Hill falls to Riverside 40-14

Any latent Cherry Hill plans to emerge atop of the Tri-River Conference football league this season were put to rest Saturday as Dearborn Heights Riverside buried the Spartans 40-14.

Cherry Hill, given a boost the previous week with its upset victory over title-favorite Melvindale, will run up against the undefeated league champ, Taylor Kennedy Friday night.

"We'll just have to regroup and start all over again," said Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski. "We looked good against Riverside the first seven or eight minutes, then our defense collapsed."

Cherry Hill took the opening kickoff on its own 37 yard line and 12 plays later quarterback Scotty Dawson ended the drive with a 12-yard touchdown pass to Mike Wiebelhaus.

The Spartans' attempt for the point-after failed as Mike Minor kicked wide of the uprights.

Cherry Hill's lead stood up only briefly as Riverside's Mark Gregory took the kickoff on the Rebel 15-yard line and sprinted 85-yards into the end zone to tie the game. Dan Cook's kick for the extra point was good and Riverside moved to a 7-6 advantage.

A Spartan turnover set up Riverside's second touchdown of the first quarter. Cherry Hill fumbled on the second play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff and Riverside's Rick Carducci recovered on the CH 35.

Then, Reb tailback Paul Fichuk took over as he rushed on three consecutive plays for 15, 16 and nine yards, scoring with 3:43 left in the period.

Riverside put the game out of reach in the second quarter as it scored 14 points to widen the lead 27-6 at halftime. The Rebels increased that margin by six 33-6 before Cherry Hill got on the boards in the third quarter on Dawson's two-yards quarterback sneak.

Dawson passed to Scott Grindling for the two-point conversion.

The loss left Cherry Hill with a 1-2 won-lost record, (they're 1-1 in the Tri-River Conference), while it was Riverside's first win of the year in three starts.

Cherry Hill's defense gave up 338 yards, 288 of those by rushes. Spartan ballcarriers chalked up 89 yards on the ground and 92 in the air and also picked up 12 first downs to Riverside's 14.

Going to 'M,' MSU grid game? Better go early

Motorists are assured of being seated in time for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff of the Michigan-Michigan State football game in Ann Arbor Oct. 9 by arriving in the stadium area one hour beforehand, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Fans taking I-94 either from Metropolitan Detroit or Jackson can use one of two routes.

The Saline Road exit will be one-way inbound preceding the game and one-way outbound afterward. A good alternate is the new State Street exit off I-94, which leads drivers directly to the stadium area.

It will carry two-way traffic.

Motorists coming from Lansing on I-96 should join US-23 traffic headed south from Flint, then take the M-14 exit at Ann Arbor to Maple Road, which connects with Stadium Boulevard.

An estimated 104,000 persons are expected for the game, 69th in a series that started in 1898.

Wayne launches title defense with victory over Fordson

Wayne Memorial launched the defense of its Great Lakes 8 Conference girls' swimming title with a stunning last event victory over arch-rivals Fordson last week.

Coach Jim McPartlin strung together a 400-yard freestyle relay team consisting of Terri Discher, Tracey Batterson, Kelley Batterson and Julie Johnston who won the event in a school record-setting time of 4:29.9.

Fordson's foursome trailed in at 4:39.8.

The win in the final relay gave Wayne a close 89-83 win over the Tractors who had the edge in first places 6-5.

"We look good so far," McPartlin said, "but, we have a long way to go to win the league meet."

Wayne however finished third in a triangular against Plymouth Canton (56) and Plymouth Salem (50), the local contingent amassing 33 points in the season's nonleague opener.

Meet results: Wayne Memorial 89, Fordson 83

Cage clinics slated

Westland Parks and Recreation Department will offer a basketball clinic for boys and girls beginning Oct. 18.

The clinic is open to fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade students from Nankin Mills, Lowell Junior High, Ford Junior High, Stevenson and Whittier schools.

The clinic will stress the game's fundamentals, including passing, dribbling and shooting and will be offered for five weeks.

Teams will also be selected by a draft during the fifth week and practice sessions will be set up for the teams which will then play in an organized league.

League play will begin after the completion of the clinics and practice sessions.

Only players who participate in the clinic or were members of teams last year will be eligible to compete in the league.

For further information, contact the parks and recreation department at 728-6571.

Skating anyone?

Registration for the Westland Parks and Recreation's figure skating program is being accepted at the Multipurpose Arena in Jaycee Park.

The program is open to all age groups and further information may be obtained by telephoning 729-4560.

The first session will begin on Oct. 24 and will continue for eight weeks. The second session is scheduled for Jan. 3.

There is a $12 registration fee.

Some people still don't have a Wyandotte Savings Bank Checking Account!

(CAN YOU BELIEVE IT?)

For over 100 years, Wyandotte Savings Bank has been protecting people's money. And for most of those years, we have offered checking accounts to provide an easy, safe, and efficient way for people to use their money. In fact, WSB offers four different kinds of checking accounts, just so there will be one just right for everyone:

Personal Check Plan . . . for people who write only a few checks a month and don't wish to be bothered with a required minimum balance.

Diamond Cheque . . . requires a minimum monthly balance yet saves money because there are no service charges.

Senior Citizen Checking . . . available free-of-charge to anyone of retirement age. (Direct deposit of Social Security and retirement checks available too.)

Business Checking Accounts . . . offering a wide variety of check forms and backed by the extensive experience you want in a bank that handles your commercial account.

Even with all this variety, experience, and protection (including FDIC insurance up to $40,000 per depositor), some people still don't have a WSB Checking Account.

If you know people who don't have a WSB Checking Account, have them drop by any office of Wyandotte Savings Bank, and we'll remedy the situation . . . fast! You can bank on us.

Merit Cigarette Sets New Taste Standard.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

Today there's a way to get real taste from a cigarette without high tar.

That's the report on a new taste discovery called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack flavor—extra flavor—into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The cigarette packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco is remarkable new MERIT.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

In tests involving thousands of smokers of filter cigarettes, the majority reported

© Philip Morris Inc. 1976

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT delivered more taste than five current leading low tar cigarettes having all the way up to 60% more tar.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, MERIT MENTHOL was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

THE CINCH CONNECTION

"Selling's a Cinch in the Want Ads"

You've heard a sure thing described as a "lead pipe cinch". That's how newspaper readers feel about results they obtain from the Want Ads.

When you pick up the phone and dial our Classified department to sell your still valuable but not now used items, it's a cinch you are going to find buyers. Very often the articles will be sold on the first call. That's because people look to the Want Ads for good bargains in furniture, appliances, toys, bikes and trikes, sewing machines and musical instruments.

Realtors, automotive dealers and Business Services specialists find Classified a cinch when it comes to selling their goods and expertise.

Get in on a sure thing, whether you are buying or selling. Use the Want Ads.

MEMO TO: REAL ESTATE SALESPeOPLE

Do you feel that you are not given enough floor time? Do you feel that the company you work for does not spend enough money advertising? Have you given thought to the benefits of joining a company that is active in equity buying thus giving you an opportunity to obtain more listings as well as sharing in the equity profits? These questions (plus many others) are well worth thinking about. Our present floor has only 7 full time salespersons and our feelings have always been that in order for one to make money they must be given a full opportunity on the floor with enough hours so as to get calls and leads to permit high earnings. If you feel that you would like to discuss our program, please call Steve Barrer or Lew Grossman for a confidential appointment.
